LIFE SENTENCE FOR WOMAN GETS ROGERS SARCASM

(Special To The News)

NEW YORK, Dec. 13. — For her fourth offense selling liquor, the great state of Michigan sends the mother of 10 children to the penitentiary for life. I guess that will just about blot out the liquor business in the state. I suppose she was the last one selling. Any woman that tries to raise 10 orphan kids in that cold state not only ought to be allowed to sell booze, but the state should furnish it to her to sell, and guarantee that it is pure. That would make her the greatest life saver in Michigan.

It certainly ought to be a lesson to people with 10 children to never move to Michigan.

Yours,

WILL.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

The meeting place for the "gang" at Highland and Elizabeth streets has given way to progress. The Traction Company had a large tool box at this corner, which made a nice "roosting place" for boys of the community. The tool box has been moved, and the corner is now occupied by one of the postal boxes used by the letter carriers as a sub-station.

Last year Winter avenue, Highland to Delaware, made claim for first place in the matter of Christmas decorations for properties. Will this street take the award this year? Most every house along Winter avenue was decorated last year during the holiday season.

Pa Newc knows how interesting it may be to persons to have another citizen of the same name residing in the city. Several times a week, some weeks, Pa Newc is called on the telephone and asked something about operation of the South New Castle Borough schools, where the principal happens to have the same name.

Some of the railroad freight trains going through here of late look like Santa Claus had arrived early. Pa Newc noted one crossing West Washington street on the Erie recently that had forty or fifty brand new all-steel freight cars in the train.

New Castle, like many other cities in western Pennsylvania, has had an unusual weather condition for several days past. Fog apparently settles down on the ground for the greater part of the day. Lack of air currents is given as an explanation by the weather authorities in Pittsburgh.

Bernie Hanlon had quite a time to get the awards for the men who won the membership contest for the New Castle Motor club. It seems that some of the companies that make the high hat gold stuff are quite high hat themselves and take their good old time at doing anything. Bernie ordered the awardes immediately after the contest closed and they arrived here yerterday.

This weather has made every one feel like getting fire crackers and hav-

Pitt And Tech Close As Means Of Crecking Spread Of Influenza

PUBLIC SCHOOLS IN PITTSBURGH OPEN

Action To Close Pitt Is Taken After Medical Survey Of School Situation

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 13.—The University of Pittsburgh suspended classes today until January 2, as a precaution against the epidemic of influenza now sweeping the country, Dr. George H. Clapp, president of the board of trustees, announced.

Action by the university board followed the announcement made yesterday that Carnegie Tech had closed classes on account of the illness among students and

The University of Pittsburg Christmas recess was to have started next Wednesday. A report of the illness of students and faculty members, compiled by the university medical staff, resulted in the board of trustees of the university ordering an immediate suspension of classes until the expiration of the Christmas recess period early in January.

Public Schools Open

At a meeting of the board of education it was decided to keep the public schools in the city and county open. The decision was based on the report of the school medical staff that the situation was not serious and did not warrant the closing of public schools.

Dr. William M. Davidson, superintendent of schools, deemed it best to continue classes for the reason that students will be under the constant surveillance of medical directors.

Nurses in various city hospitals have been asked to remain in the dormitories while off duty. This order was issued after several hospitals reported an increase of colds among nurses while off duty.

State Secretary of Health Dr. Theodore B. Appel has stated there was on evidence of any spread of the influenza epidemic in Pennsylvania.

Federal Jurors Give Mrs. Howe $21,240 Award

Erie Widow Given $21,240 Award From Des Moines Iowa Insurance Company

WAS ONLY RECENTLY GIVEN $47,355 AWARD

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 13.—A verdict opened in United States court today awarded Mrs. Lenora Howe of Erie, $20,000 plus $1,240 interest in her suit against the National Life Association of Des Moines, Ia., to collect the second of two policies issued on her husband, Willard Howe, prominent Erie realtor who was burned to death in his car Nov. 4, 1927.

The jury reached the verdict at 2 o clock this morning. They retired for deliberation yesterday, shortly before noon. The jury went over the evidence thoroughly before a first ballot was taken, one juror said.

Mrs. Howe, plaintiff in a suit against the Fidelity and Casualty Company of New York in the same court last week, was awarded $47,355 on two accident policies held by her

H. T. Parson, President Of Woolworth Company Foresees Big Business Ahead

Says President's Message Very Constructive Unemployment Is Easing Up

NEW YORK, Dec. 13.—"I believe that 1929 will be a banner year both in industry and in retail selling," said H. T. Parson, president of the F. W. Woolworth Company, to International News Service today.

As head of the Woolworth chain of 1,723 stores, situated in strategic positions in the retail centers of the country, Parson is admirably situated to estimate accurately the buying power of the American people. Last year the Woolworth stores sold $272,000,000 worth of goods at retail, and in the current year they are expected to pass over their counters a total of $287,000,000, retail prices.

Paraguay Stands Ready To Settle Big Land Dispute

Paraguayan Government Informs League That Arbitration Is Harbored

BOLIVIA SEEMS MORE INCENSED

(International News Service)

LUGANO, Switzerland, Dec. 13.—Paraguay today informed the League of Nations council that the Paraguayan government is willing to arbitrate the frontier dispute with Bolivia.

One communication already has been received from Bolivia setting forth the Bolivian government's position in the boundary controversy, but it is expected that another message will be received shortly.

The Paraguayan note, which was an answer to the message sent by French Foreign Minister Briand in behalf of the League of Nations, said in part:

"We are willing to accept arbitration and conciliation, but Bolivia is not inclined to do so."

In his message M. Briand pointed out to the two South American republics their peaceful obligations under the League of Nations covenant. Both are members of the League, but neither has a seat upon the council, which is now meeting here.

Announcement was made that Bolivia has notified the council that the Lapaz government will reply very soon to the Briand communication.

As the situation stood today Paraguay is putting responsibility for continued tension upon Bolivia.

It was expected that the council would give formal consideration to the Paraguayan note during the day.

The South American dispute, the first of its kind ever to be referred to the League by an American republic, is acquiring added interest from the fact that President Herbert Hoover is in South America at present upon his goodwill tour.

It is reported that Argentina may make a formal offer of mediation. In that event the League might be relieved of the responsibility for intervening. It is not positively known, however, that Bolivia and Paraguay would accept any offer of mediation from Argentina.

Salary Increase Refused To Mills

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13.—Ogden L. Mills will have to get along for another year at least on his $10,000 salary as undersecretary of the treasury and his $100,000 or more private income.

The senate today renewed his present salary for another year when administration leaders abandoned an effort to get him a $2,000 increase. A group of Democrats and Insurgent Republicans had banded together to defeat the increase and administration senators finally tossed in the towel.

National Head Of Legion Coming Here February 12

Announcement Is Made That Preliminary Plans Are Under Way

STATE COMMANDER COMING SAME DAY

Appropriate Program Will Be Planned For Visit Of Leaders

National Commander Paul V. McNutt of the American Legion intends to visit New Castle next February 12, according to word telephoned here yesterday by Pennsylvania State Commander Charles A. Gebert.

Pat J. Dempsey, assistant commander of the 26th district of the Legion announced this fact on Wednesday afternoon, following the telephone conversation between Ivor V. Davis, head of the local Legion post and Departmental Commander Gebert.

Names Committee

Dempsey declared yesterday that, as general chairman of arrangements for National Commander's day, he has already proceeded to name a committee to care for the general functions to come off at that time. It is planned to make the grand chief's visit one of the biggest and most colorful of its kind ever held in Pennsylvania.

"Not only will New Castle be host for the boys of the 26th district on that day, Lincoln's birthday," said Dempsey—"but also to hundreds of legionnaires coming from other posts in western Pennsylvania and eastern Ohio. Officials on the state American Legion roster will be especially invited to come to New Castle then, among whom will be the state commander, Mr. Gebert."

Tentative Plans

Tentative arrangements already mapped out by Dempsey call for a legionnaires' banquet and ball in the evening. It is likely that the commander will appear before the students of the senior high school in their morning assembly, and probably those of the two junior high schools too. Dr. C. C. Green, superintendent of schools, has agreed to take charge of this matter for the legion officials.

Those of the general arrangements committee who have already been notified of their appointment are James W. Cole, Herbert Pears and T. Wilbur McCullough. Ivor Davis, commander of the post and Fred L. Rentz have likewise been informed that they are to officiate on the official reception committee.

According to Chairman Dempsey announcement of the remaining members of the various committees and other planned arrangements will be made in the near future.

Prince George To Get Fast Ride In Trip To England

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Dec. 13.—Prince George, rushing here from Bermuda will travel to England to the bedside of his royal father at record speed, officials of the Cunard line announced today. The company's liner, Berengaria, which will leave New York with the Prince aboard tomorrow night will maintain a full speed of 23 knots an hour all the way across the Atlantic.

The prince will transfer from H. M. S. Durban, which is carrying him from Bermuda to the Berengaria tomorrow morning.

Arguments On Klee Case Are Heard By Court

Rev. Hugh D. Maxwell, Foreman Of Grand Jury, Called To Explain Action

SAYS JURY CALLED BACK INDICTMENT

Not Understood At First It Was Necessary For 12 To Vote For True Bill

Inside facts on the action of the grand jury in returning a true bill against Miss Kathryn Klee for alleged violation of the liquor laws, were given by Rev. Hugh D. Maxwell of Ellwood City, foreman of the grand jury, before Judges Hildebrand and Chambers Wednesday evening.

According to Rev. Maxwell, when the case of Miss Klee was presented two witnesses were examined. When the grand jury voted on the bill 10 jurors voted for a true bill and six for not a true bill. As a majority had voted for a true bill, the indictment was returned that way.

Recall Bill

Afterwards, Rev. Maxwell said, it was learned that it was necessary for 12 of the jury to vote for a true bill in order to return that kind of a finding. Upon learning this, the jury recalled the bill and another witness, County Detective William G. Fleming, was examined. After his examination the jury again voted on the bill and this time 15 voted in favor of a true bill and two against. It was then returned as a true bill. According to Rev. Maxwell the bill had not been sent back, but had been requested back when the jury discovered its mistake.

District Attorney J. Elder Bryan was called to substantiate the testimony of Rev. Maxwell that the bill had been requested back by the grand jury. County Detective W. G. Fleming was also called to show that he had testified before the grand jury.

Hoover Party Now Enroute To Buenos Aires

TRAVELLING TODAY UNDER TROPICAL SUN

Police Take Unusual Precautions To Guard Hoover On Visit

(International News Service)

BUENOS AIRES, Argentine Dec. 13.—President-Elect Hoover and the others of his "good-will" party today were speeding across the vast expanse of the Argentine Pampas aboard a special government train which is scheduled to arrive here at 6 o'clock this evening (4:00 p. m. E. S. T.)

The Hoover party arrived at Mendoza, the first large Argentine town east of the Chilean border, at 7 o'clock last night. The party changed trains there and 45 minutes later the government train had started its long journey to this city.

American Ambassador Robert W. Bliss and several Argentine officials who met the Hoover party at the Chilean border are also aboard the train.

Under Tropical Sun.

Mr. Hoover was traveling under conditions vastly different from those encountered yesterday. Most of the trip today was under a tropical sun beating on the Pampas in sharp contrast to the cold and snow met with in crossing the Andes.

The police here have taken every precaution to insure Mr. Hoover's safety during his stay here. All persons suspected of Anarchistic or anti-American views have either been rounded up or are under strict surveillance.

A tremendous reception is expected when the American President-Elect arrives here. Argentinians are

George McConahy Injured While Crossing South Mill Street

George McConahy, 1724 East Washington stret, was struck and injured on Wednesday evening by the automobile owned and operated by David DeFiore as he was crossing South Mill street at the P. & L. E. crossing. He was knocked down.

He was picked up by Mr. DeFiore with the assistance of James Guido, and placed in the DeFiore car and rushed to the New Castle hospital.

Here it was found that he had sustained a severe gash on the back of the head. It required eight stitches to close the wound. He was able to leave the hospital and return to his home this morning.

According to the report made by Mr. DeFiore to the police, he was driving north on South Mill street at the P. & L. E. crossing. He saw Mr. McConany walking across the street at the P. & L. E. crossing. When he reached about the middle

Congress Warned To Fight "Flu"

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13.—Congress was warned to guard against the "flu" today.

Commander George W. Calver, U. S. N., physician to the house, posted a notice to all members to take precautions, even though he said the "flu" has touched Washington only lightly.

His chief warn was not to "fight it off" but to go to bed at the first sign of the ailment.

Hoover May Act As Mediator In Territory Row

Possibility Exists That Hoover May Act As Mediator In Bolivian-Paraguay Row

SITUATION HAS BECOME SERIOUS

Washington May Be Forced Is Dangerous One To Take Action; Problem

By LAWRENCE SULLIVAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

ABOARD HOOVER SPECIAL TRAIN, VPLLA MERCEDES, Argentina, Dec. 13.—While President-elect Herbert Hoover, on his goodwill tour of South America, has remained strictly aloof and silent upon the territorial quarrel between Bolivia and Paraguay, the circumstances as they exist today, may result in the possibility of Mr. Hoover becoming a peaceful mediator in event the United States government decides to offer its good offices for intervention.

As Mr. Hoover is making his goodwill visit as a private citizen, this fact would enable him to act without directly involving the high office to which he has been elected. So far, since the cessation of diplomatic relations between Bolivia and Paraguay, he has filled the role of silent spectator.

Serious Situation

The fact that the League of Nations, acting upon representations from Paraguay, has, to some extent, intervened, brings about an unprecedented situation in the Americas which may introduce Washington to take direct action.

Not since the outbreak of the World War have the South American diplomats been called upon to wrestle with such dangerous problems as those involved in the dispute between Bolivia and Paraguay over the future nationality of the Grand Chaco district, lying between the two republics.

Strange Divorce Case Is Granted

Wife Asks Court To Free Her So That Husband Can Wed Another

(International News Service)

BRISTOL, Conn., Dec. 13.—The strangest divorce in court records was granted today by Judge Allyn Brown to Mrs. Arthur G. Main.

She asked it and got it so that her husband, a Bristol business man, might marry a crippled girl to whom a child was born three months ago.

More than that, she obtained a doctor for the girl, Alice Hartson, 22, and paid her hospital expenses.

"I thought it was my Christian duty," she told Judge Brown today.

The Mains were married in July, 1924.

The husband met Miss Hartson in July, 1927.

The husband, Mrs. Main said, fell in love with the girl and finally came to her and confessed that he was the father of her child.

County schools are feeling the mild flu epidemic that seems to be sweeping over the county. A number of teachers have been laid up and there are scores of pupils absent. County Superintendent John C. King's Illness Near To Crisis Physicians Say

If King George Lives Another 48 Hours He Has Chance For Recovery

SON'S PRESENCE ADDS STRENGTH

Royal Physicians Astonished By Great Battle Waged By Frail King

By HARRY FLORY
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Dec. 13.—While King George is still in the gravest danger, following two lung operations, his miraculous rally after the arrival in London of his eldest son, the Prince of Wales, again raised hopes today for his recovery. It was obvious, however, that these hopes were hanging upon slender threads.

Even the royal physicians, now numbering seven, were astonished by the king's unexpected show of stamina. From the very threshold of death, the stricken ruler, by a display of indomitable will power, rallied his waning strength to the point where the doctors dared to puncture his right side and then remove a section of rib for the removal of poisonous pus at the base of the lung.

Amnesia Victim Is Identified

Youth Found Wandering In Columbus Ohio Is Syracuse University Student

ALBANY STEP-FATHER MAKES IDENTIFICATION

(International News Service)

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Dec. 13.—Herman Sica, of Albany, N. Y., today identified the youth who wandered into Columbus, apparently an amnesia victim, as his step-son, Kendall Bradley Hussard, 21, a junior at Syracuse University, who has been missing since December 4.

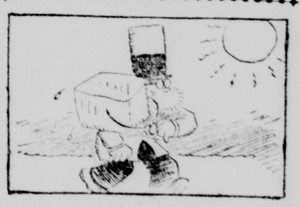

The identification was made in the offices of a private detectives agency here. An operative of the agency was approached by Hussard on the street Monday. Hussard told the detective he did not know his name or where he came from and had only a vague recollection of having his ticket punched on a train at Pittsburgh last Thursday.

When he "awoke" at Pittsburgh his mind was an utter blank, he said, and he wandered from Pittsburgh to Wheeling, W. Va., and thence to Columbus, seeking familiar sights or faces.

His sole baggage, on arriving here, consisted of a soiled shirt wrapped in a newspaper. The probability that he was suffering from amnesia took root in his mind, and he had gone to the Carnegie Library here in an effort to solve his difficulties unaided by procuring books on insanity and amnesia.

First clues as to his identity were discolsed by firm labels on his clothing.

Life Sentence Faces Mother Of 10 Children

(International News Service)

LANSING, Mich., Dec. 13.—Etta Miller, 48, mother of ten children, was in jail here today awaiting sentence of life imprisonment, while state-wide protests against her fate gathered momentum and appeals for her pardon were carried to Gov. Fred W. Green.

Under the new criminal code the life sentence is mandatory and Judge Charles B. Collingwood is required to impose such sentence on Mrs. Miller after her conviction yesterday of a fourth violation of the prohibition law.

She is the first woman to receive a life sentence under the new code. She has never been convicted of any crime except selling or delivering liquor. The total of her three previous sentences was less than 14 months. Good behavior cut this time to less than a year, most of which was served in the Ingham county jail.

Her fourth conviction here yesterday was for delivering two pints of gin. A jury of 10 men and two women found her guilty after deliberating three hours. The first ballot stood nine to three for conviction, but the three who balked at the life sentence held out against the majority only a short time.

Whether Mrs. Miller will be sentenced today or next week depends on the procedure adopted by Barnard Pierce, prosecuting attorney. If he asks Judge Collingwood to impose the life sentence for the fourth offense itself, the code requires that the judge follow that course. Under this plan Mrs. Miller would be sentenced immediately.

Pierce said this morning that he is more likely to bring new information charging Mrs. Miller specifically as a habitual criminal. There might be a separate trial and sentence delayed until next week.

Plan Dropping Of Doe Fight

No Action Likely In Dauphin County Courts Over Open Doe Season

PROTESTANTS ARE READY TO QUIT

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Dec. 13.—Possibility of any action by the Dauphin county court in the controversy regarding the shooting of doe deer was ended today when counsel for protestants against the open season indicated unwillingness to continue the suit.

A continued hearing on the suit brought by Charles S. Butler, a "Monroe county taxpayer," to restrain the county treasurer of Monroe county from issuing special doe licenses had been fixed by the court for today. When the case was called counsel for Butler failed to appear although members of the game commission were present, represented by counsel.

The court showed its anxiety to dispose finally of the case and directed an attache to call John R. Geyer, a local attorney who was one of counsel for Butler at an initial hearing.

Geyer explained to the court that he believed it useless to continue the suit as a local action in Monroe county to prevent issuance of doe licenses had been successful and that none was being issued. Action by the Dauphin county court would have affected the entire state.

"This case is one for the legislature rather than the courts," Geyer said. He added that he believed the next session of the legislature will make considerable change in the present methods of fixing game seasons and that it would be useless to push court action so near to the end of the special doe season and on the approach of the legislative session.

The suit was brought originally in the Dauphin county court in the hope of preventing shooting of does anywhere in the state.

Violent Quake Is Recorded In Denver

(International News Service)

DENVER, Dec. 13.—A major earthquake shock was recorded here yesterday afternoon, according to Father W. A. Forestall of Regis College here today.

The quake started at 2:11 p. m., yesterday afternoon, reached its maximum at 2:19 and ended at 2:52, with a total duration of 48 minutes. It was located by Father Forestall at approximately three or four thousand miles to the south or southeast of Denver, most likely not on the American continent.

ing a real fourth. Pa Newc advises that the many young, middle aged, and older men (who should know better) that percolate about the streets without o'coats, some hatless and none really dressed to battle with a December air, should attire themselves properly and the flu which is tearing about again would disappear.

Which all reminds Pa Newc that he sees a number of young store clerks who walk down street in their shirt sleeves. It seems to be a battle between the unwise and the flu. Pa Newc, by the way, is also one of the unwise.

Some Lawrence county folks were visiting out in Kansas some time ago and they chanced on a venerable cyclone state fellow who had served in the Civil war in one of the local companies. He knew the county well and was an eager questioner about the Battery B boys. He had not been in Lawrence county since way back in the 1800's some where.

Some one mentioned grave yards and the interesting study of some old ones which reminds Pa Newc that he knows of an old cemetery in North Beaver township. It lies in the corner of a cultivated field. Or rather what's left of it does. One old tombstone that is in good condition still stands. The marker is several feet high and is a slab of stone with the letters chiselled in crudely. If Pa Newc remembers correctly, the person buried there was born in 1763, according to the marker.

At Westminster the favorite trick in the initiation of Freshmen used to be in sending them to locate some unheard of name in one of the various grave yards. One fictitious name was given a timid frosh to locate in the yard one night and when he returned he had the exact data. Investigation proved that the plebe was right and the fictitiously thought up statistics had a real meaning after all. It was a case of the joke being on the other end.

Who remembers football? Here yesterday, gone today and basketball has already crowded it back behind the curtains for the next act which will not occur until next fall. Sumpn' like one of strange interlude plays.

Why is it that people in a restaurant always want to know what kind of pie they have and then they order invariably the same kind each time. One keeper of the chuck bluntly said to an ingurgitator, "Just what kind do you want, we've got it."

At home he must be henpecked something terrible. For when Pa Newc saw him getting on the street car the other evening, the man in question turned around and tried to close the door. Grave! Where is thy victory?

Last spring when Pa Newc was talking about switches, and the way some of the younger girls were wearing them until their hair grew longer, he was speaking from actual experience. But now, an even younger generation is wearing the switches. Those of last spring are now thrown in the discard, for the bobbed hair is now long enough to be "done up".

What the average female carried with her at all times rather astounded Pa Newc last evening. For he was loaded down, first with a dorine, then with a rouge box, then with a comb then with a lip stick, and then with the door key, so that the young lady could be certain of getting in her house.

Wednesday afternoon the clowns at The Cathedral circus made unholy mock of a member of The News staff. For his head is bald—so bald that it looks like a shiny Baldwin apple. Clowns, and everyone at the circus enjoyed the fun, even the butt of the joke. From all reports, he seemed to have more fun than the clowns.

ARGUMENTS ON KLEE CASE ARE HEARD BY COURT

a motion to quash the indictment for the reason that less than 12 jurymen had voted on the original return for a true bill. It was also claimed that the bill had been sent back the second time, whereas the testimony of Rev. Maxwell showed that it had been requested back.

Arguments in support of the motion to quash were made by C. H. Akens and against it by District Attorney J. Elder Bryan. Akens took the position that the case should be dismissed on account of the manner in which the indictment was found. District Attorney Bryan contended that the grand jury had a right to correct its own mistakes, and the present motion was made to delay the trial.

Under the law it is said to be generally accepted that at least 12 members of a grand jury should vote in favor of a true bill before it can be returned. So far as is known this is the first time that a question of this kind has arisen in the local court. The court will hand down an opinion later.

KING'S ILLNESS NEAR TO CRISIS PHYSICIANS SAY

palace at 3 p. m., London time, said the king was making progress.

Crucial Period Nears.

However, the deepest anxiety still pervades the nation and the royal family. It will not be dissipated until the attending doctors themselves show more optimism.

The next 48 hours will be the crucial period.

The developments in that period it is expected, will reveal the outcome of the illness from which the monarch has now been suffering for more than three weeks.

The greatest danger arises from the threat of pneumonia complicated with heart weakness.

Although of frail physique the king has the advantage of a clean, normal life. He has never dissipated and always kept regular hours. In this respect his life has been an exemplary model.

The Prince of Wales now has assumed an authoritative position in the royal family and is directing the treatment of his father in cooperation with the physicians.

Progress Satisfactory.

LONDON, Dec. 13.—King George was progressing as satisfactorily as could be expected today following the probing and operation he underwent yesterday, an official bulletin issued by the royal physicians this morning indicated.

The bulletin stated that the king had had some sleep during the night, that his pulse was steady and that he "was not losing ground."

"The king had some sleep during the night. The local condition is satisfactory. Despite weakness and considerable toxaemia, his majesty's pulse remains steady and he is not losing ground," the bulletin read.

The bulletin was signed by Sir Stanley Hewett, Sir Hugh Rigby and Lord Dawson of Penn.

A feeling of hope and optimism prevails in the royal household, it was stated.

The hope uppermost throughout England today was that Sir Hugh Rigby's operation upon the king for empyema after his lung had been probed and some infectious matter withdrawn would result in his majesty's ultimate recovery.

It was authoritatively understood that the draining process is likely to continue for a week or ten days at the least before all the infectious matter has been removed.

BANNER BUSINESS IN 1929 IS PREDICTED

ness year directly ahead," said Parson. When asked to summarize his reasons for arriving at that conclusion, he said:

"First and foremost, because of the high rate of earnings of industry and business this year. The crops of 1923 were good, and marketed at better prices than before, which will mean that that money carries over into 1929 to stimulate business.

"Unemployment is gradually decreasing, as each month since the first of September shows a gradual decrease in unemployment and an increase in the per capita wage, which will give added buying power.

Export Trade Improves

"The export business of the country is improving steadily, and we will have a large export credit for this year. No doubt 1929 will show further improvement in exports of American products to foreign countries, our mass production produces higher wages for the individual worker and keeps the cost of the finished product down, so that we can successfully compete in the markets of the world for business.

"The political situation has been definitely clarified, and the people overwhelmingly endorsed the continuation of the policies of President Coolidge, which will be followed by President-elect Hoover. As there is no breach in the political atmosphere, this establishes the business of the country.

Message Constructive

"The President's message is very constructive, and if the policies outlined by him are carried through by congress, it will materially aid the railroads, one of the backbones of prosperity in the country. With all of these positive factors operating, I see no reason why business conditions in this country should not steadily improve."

High money rates, which broke the back of the bull market last week, have been no great handicap to the mercantile business of the country, Parson declared. "When call money loaned at 10 per cent" he said, "we were offered commercial money at 5 per cent, but did not need it in our business."

Sharp competition in the motor car industry next year will result directly from the return of Henry Ford, with a splendid product, to the home and foreign markets, according to the head of Woolworth Company, who sees a smaller margin of profit in motor car production.

George Henry Casker.

George Henry Casker, aged 52 years, world war veteran, of 514 Waldo street, died in the New Castle hospital Wednesday night at 11:30 after a long illness.

Mr. Casker had been in poor health for the past three years. His condition is believed to have been the result of complications which developed while in action during the late war.

He was born in Swansea, South Wales, June 20, 1876 a son of William and Sarah Casker. He had been a resident of New Castle for about three years and was a carpenter by occupation. He was a member of the Episcopal church.

At the beginning of the late war Mr. Casker enlisted as a private in 1914 in South Wales. He served in France for fourteen months. In the engagement at Vimy Ridge he was wounded in the heel by a bayonet. He received his discharge from the army in 1919.

Besides his wife, Alice Hawks Casker, he leaves one brother, William Casker and two sisters, Mrs. Alice Stanburry and Mrs. Florence Rickard all of Swansea, Wales.

Funeral services will be conducted Saturday, December 15 at 2 p. m., from the home of W. H. Morgan, 514 Waldo street. Rev. Mont Boyd of this city will officiate. Interment will be made in Oak Park cemetery.

James Driana Funeral.

Funeral services for James Driana took place Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock from the St. Lawrence church at Hillsville. The funeral mass was read by Rev. Fr. Galliano. Burial was made in the church cemetery and the pallbearers were Patsy Ferraro, Frank Colucci, Dominick Bugliese, Joseph Caruso, James Tulino and Louis Burlie.

Thelma Richards Buried.

Funeral services for Thelma Richards, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl L. Richards were conducted from the family residence on Euclid avenue avenue Wednesday afternoon at 2:30. Rev. F. E. Stough, pastor of St. John's Lutheran church officiated. Mrs. William Park sang "Asleep in Jesus" during the service. The pallbearers were K. L. Ricker, C. W. Ricker, Harry W. Miles and William F. Gilbert. Burial was made in Oak Park cemetery.

Miss Nellie B. Simpson.

Miss Nellie B. Simpson, aged 30 years of Ellwood City, a graduate nurse of the Shenango Valley hospital, passed away Thursday morning in the Shenango Valley hospital after an illness of four weeks.

Miss Simpson graduated from the local hospital in 1914. She has resided in Ellwood City for the past six years. She leaves one brother, Paul, in Pittsburgh and a sister, Ethel, in Ellwood City.

The body has been removed to the home of Joseph Swogger of 411 Haig street, Ellwood City. It will be sent Friday morning to the residence of W. G. Simpson, Pinehurst avenue, Belmont, Pa., where funeral services will be held.

Mrs. Elizabeth Burick.

Mrs. Elizabeth Burick, aged 26 years, wife of John Burick, died at her home, 1023 Summit street, Wednesday following an illness.

The deceased was born at Checho Slovakia, June, 1902, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andy Zuzow. She was a member of St. Nicholas church. Besides her husband she leaves two children, Joseph and John. She also leaves her mother in Czecho Slovakia and two sisters, Mrs. Barbara Hrico and Mrs. Anna Hudak and one brother, Joseph Zuzow, all of New Castle.

Funeral services will be conducted Friday, December 14, at 9 a. m., from the St. Nicholas church with Rev. Fr. Stephen Varzaly officiating. Burial in church cemetery.

of the street he showed some signs of staggering.

He appeared to take three steps backward, making Mr. DeFiore believe that he was returning to the side of the street from which he started, then started forward and was hit by the McConahy machine and knocked to the ground. He was struck by the left front part of the machine.

He was struck as Mr. DeFiore turned his car off sharply to the right to avoid hitting him. Mr. DeFiore believing that he was returning to the side from which he started.

Mr. DeFiore's machine went up the P. & L. E. tracks about 30 feet before coming to a stop.

HOOVER PARTY NOW ENROUTE TO BUENOS AIRES

determined to prevent his leaving here under the impression that there is any antagonism against the United States in this country.

Plan Big Greeting.

The popular greeting to Mr. Hoover will be especially warm it is expected, in order to offset any bad impression which may have been made by the police's discovery of bombs and munitions in what was reported as a possible plot against Mr. Hoover's life.

Upon his arrival here Mr. Hoover will immediately be escorted to President Irigoyen's palace by a squadron of military police. After briefly exchanging greetings with the Argentine president, Mr. Hoover will go to the American embassy to spend the night. There will be no other official functions tonight.

Mr. Hoover will remain here until Sunday morning when an Argentine naval vessel will take him and his party across the Platte river to Montevideo, Uruguay where the President-Elect will board the U. S. Utah that night for his northward journey.

Reception Is Given To New St. Andrews' Pastor

Reception tendered Rev. George L. Grambs, new pastor of St. Andrews Episcopal church, Long avenue, Wednesday evening in the guild room of the church, was very largely attended by members of the parish, their friends and members of the clergy, including the Rt. Rev. John C. Ward, bishop of the Episcopal Church Diocese of Erie. The number in attendance was approximately one hundred and the affair was one of the most successful in the history of the parish.

J. C. Hetrick was chairman of the evening and had charge of the very interesting program. That part of the program especially designed to welcome the new pastor, opened with remarks by the Rev. Dr. Joseph D. Herron of Cincinnati, a former rector of Trinity Episcopal church and founder of St. Andrews Mission church. He told about the founding of the mission and how it had been named St. Andrews for the reason that members of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew had been active in its establishment.

Rev. P. C. Pearson, rector of Trinity church, then extended the new pastor, the fraternal greetings of the mother church. He was followed by Rev. J. L. Petrie of Grace M. E. church, who extended the new pastor the greetings of the New Castle Ministerial Association.

The Rt. Rev. John C. Ward, bishop of Erie, then spoke and welcomed Rev. Grambs into the diocese. Rev. Grambs was the concluding speaker in this part of the program, expressing his appreciation of the welcome extended him.

The balance of the program consisted of musical numbers and a very well rendered little one act play given by the B. & A. Club. The musical program included a solo by William H. Evans, solo by John Hitchen, solo by Miss Anne Hitchen and a duet by Harry Ayers and W. H. Evans.

The playlet was entitled Memories and included in its cast Katherine Hetrick, Helen Reynolds, Dorothy Smith, Jane Reynolds, Eunice Woodcock, Ethel Evans, Marion Woodcock, and Anne Hitchen. Jane Reynolds played the part of the man who was dreaming, while Anne Hitchen, unseen, rendered the theme in delightful solo effect. As the theme was sung, the others enacted those things suggested in the theme. The affair was presented with full stage and lighting effect.

Following the program, a social hour was enjoyed, during which the Women's Guild served delicious refreshments.

HOUSE WARMING IS ENJOYABLE EVENT

Miss Sally White entertained a number of friends at an attractively appointed house warming Wednesday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Jameson, of Croton avenue who have recently gone to house keeping.

Games and music were the chief pastimes of the evening. The honor guests received many beautiful and attractive gifts.

Later in the evening the hostess served a dainty lunch assisted by Mrs. Arthur Sisley and Mrs. Elmer Burns. Colors suggestive of the Christmas season were carried out.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Abblett, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Sisley and daughter, Vivian Jayne, Mr. and Mrs. William J. Richardson and daughter, Letitia Jean, Mrs. Elmer Burns and daughter, Delores Louise, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Clois, Mrs. Sadie White, Mrs. Winter, William Magill, Misses Peg Jones, Virginia Burke, Charlotte Cloia and Messrs Albert Bailey, Leonard Badger, Fred Abblett and Ralph Montgomery.

Out of town guests was Raymond Harrison of New Jersey.

ATTRACTIVE LUNCHEON EVENT OF WEDNESDAY

Tall red and green tapers in crystal holders and suggestions of the yuletide season formed a beautiful combination of color for the 1 o'clock luncheon and Christmas party given Wednesday by Mrs. Edward McKibben at her home on Meyer avenue.

The guest list numbered 18 and were members of the N. H. B. Kensington. The hostess was assisted in serving by Mrs. R. E. Elmore, Mrs. J. V. Bowman and Mrs. William Sterling.

The after luncheon hours were spent socially. Exchange of Christmas gifts was an outstanding feature. The place of the next meeting will be announced later.

FILMS DIE WITH PLAYERS

HOLLYWOOD has discovered that the public will not patronize a motion picture when exhibited after the death of the star of the film and is puzzled thereby. The movie producers are unable to distinguish between the film of a dead star and the book of a dead author, or the play of a dead dramatist, or the composition of a deceased musician, and, they point out, there are any number of cases where such works have only become popular after death of their artist creator.

A bit of applied psychology would solve this movieland mystery. The key to the solution rests in the movement launched by certain producers some years ago to substitute "story appeal" for "player appeal" on the screen. Fans will recall the catch-phrase of that movement: "The play is the thing."

People are primarily interested in living things, and death soon divorces that interest. The average fan goes to the movie theater more to see a favorite actor or actress than with the expectation of seeing a good story picturized or of seeing the latest work of some scenario writer or director. And this public interest in movie folk, being something akin to personal friendship, must inevitably vanish with the death of the star.

The question why interest in the moving picture does not survive its star is equivalent to asking why anybody would read Shakespeare's "Hamlet" if the character of Hamlet would be left out of this immortal tragedy.

GASOLINE TAX PROTEST DISMISSED

ON THE ground that no federal question was involved, the supreme court has dismissed a Montana appeal, which challenged the validity of the gasoline tax in that state. With a gasoline tax in effect next year everywhere except New York and Illinois, the court's action possible forestalls a series of protests from forty-six jurisdictions.

It is worth noting that the constitution of the United States has little to say how each state shall pay taxes. By indirection they have an incentive to collect inheritance levies under the provisions of the federal inheritance act, but otherwise there is no invasion of local autonomy. The gasoline tax has become such an accepted source of revenue that, far from trying to reverse the wheels of progress, the states might well look for standards of greater uniformity. That will come only through co-operation.

ON WITH IT, IF——!

IF THERE'S no need to go again into the crowded stores; if, after standing in line at the post office a long time, the parcels are all mailed; if the list of greetings is all made out, with no one overlooked, and the cards also are in the post office to be delivered at the right time; if the family gifts are stowed away, each set in a safe hiding place and each gift with a gala little name-tag on it—stowed away to pop out in a series of glorious surprises at the right moment; if the tree and its decorations are ready too, so that the business of setting it up may get smartly into motion Monday night; if also the eye for preparedness sees that the Christmas dinner will eventuate with adequate substance and garnishments and not undue labor; if all these miracles are deeds performed then, from the old-fashioned folks at least, let a great shout go aloft, "Come on Christmas Day!"

With all in readiness, may the bells ring out and songs of joy carom from house to house.

The great need is not a gas that won't burst into flame, but prejudices that won't.

The Way OF THE World

By GROVE PATTERSON

BEANS AND ADVERTISING.

California despite its fame for fruit and climate is really a great bean state. Lima bean growers not long ago spent $170,000 in advertising to move their crop. And it moved. If you have any doubt of the power of newspaper advertising ask the bean growers of California. Go from beans all up and down the line. Production in the United States takes on new figures of enormity. Advertising takes on greater and greater importance if the "crop" is going to be moved.

SOBRIETY.

"America will remain irresistible in economics if it remains sober" says Edison. That word sober may make us think of things other than economics. No matter what we may think about prohibition enforcement laws and methods, there is no sanity without sobriety and a drunken man outside the jail is more of a manace to human society than a hardened criminal inside. Drunkenness means loss of self control and loss of self control means a quick return to the beast.

HARDLY THAT.

A somewhat famous woman politician says it is issues not personalities that count in politics. That is an unfortunate remark for if the woman really believes it she seems to have lost her understanding of folks and she will hardly go much further in politics.

CLEMENCEAU.

The old Clemenceau very wise in the ways of this world sets forth a philosophy of action in a few words when he says:

"One must know what one wants when he wants it he must have the courage to say it and having said it, courage enough to do it.

BOREDOM?

An English woman—the Boroness Ravendale—says a woman has no right to take a man's job in the world just as a relief from boredom. It is perhaps true that many women go into business life because they are tired of what used to be women's exclusive duties. But they have often learned two things while doing it. They have learned that they like jobs and sometimes learned they can do them as well as men. Men ought not to "crab" about it. They ought to be stimulated by the competition. Of course women will have to live and toil upon the earth many years before men will honestly—down in their heart of hearts or mind of minds—accept them as intellectual equals.

Chemists who are trying to make medicines tasteless might consult some of the new playwrights. They have perfected the art of producing the tasteless.

Today

A Good King Dying.
A Cook Stove Slavery.
They Want to Fight.
To Protect U. S. Oil.

By ARTHUR G. BRISBANE
(Copyright, 1928, by N. Y. American, Inc.)

Deep sorrow in Britain. The king seems to have no chance of recovery. His oldest son, coming in haste from his work for the empire in Africa, arrived in time to see his father alive.

The world's sympathy is with the British people, and with King George, a good father, a good husband, wise king, good citizen of the British empire, obedient to law, devoted to his duty.

There have been greater kings, like Henry VIII; more spectacular kings, like Richard the Lion-Hearted; more constructive kings, perhaps, like Alfred the Great or William the Conqueror, who brought French system into the British Islands. But there has never been a BETTER king.

When it was suggested, long ago, that big apartment houses should contain many families, with one central heating plant, and water supply there was a conservative hub-bub. "You are trying to break up the American family. That family will always live in its own separate house under its own roof."

Nevertheless big apartment houses were built.

Now it is suggested that millions of women, tied to cooking stoves, should be set free from that drudgery. Community kitchens, cooking food properly, carefully, scientifically, would deliver food at the home.

A good suggestion. It would enable women to use their brains for thinking, instead of working.

The idea isn't entirely new. Those engaged in manufacturing prepared foods, breakfast foods, soups, preserved fruits and other products, help to minimize "kitchen slavery".

Paraguay and Bolivia think they want to fight, because a boundary dispute killed 25 men. The remedy suggested is to start a war and kill 25,000 more men.

This war threat comes at an awkward time, when the Kellogg treaty is presented to the senate as a "sure cure" for war.

The difficult thing is to keep from fighting those that want to fight. Big countries like the United States MIGHT, but WON'T say to the little countries: "If you fight we shall send men in airplanes and shoot you." That would only be adding more shooting to the world's trouble. Besides, we haven't got the airplanes. Bolivia, asked to accept arbitration, says: "No I won't." What can you do about that?

"Recovery is brisk," were the words from Wall street Tuesday when the ticker stopped ticking, and the worried speculators took their headaches home feeling better. In a country so rich, it is hard for the bears to scare even the most foolish bulls thoroughly.

Sooner or later, of course, the gamblers learn their lesson. But with any kind of sound judgment, to keep apart from mere speculation, investment in American securities is the best in the world.

Mr. Axel Byles, head of the Tidewater Associated Oil company, at a cheerful dinner in New York's Metropolitan club with his friends, Paul Shoup and Herbert Fleishhacker, from California, talked cheerfully about the oil situation.

He believes that big oil men have decided, at last, that it doesn't pay to waste oil resources in throat-cutting competition. There is no suggestion of any hard-and-fast agreement among producers or exporters, but there are indications of dawning common sense.

President Coolidge has denounced the wasting of oil resources. Herbert Hoover may find a plan to protect the oil industry.

Reckless exportation at the lowest possible prices, benefiting foreigners and depleting our oil reserves, might certainly be regulated.

Socialists of the country discover with grief and surprise that their presidential candidate, Norman Thomas, polled only 300,000 votes, against more than 15,000,000 for Gov. Smith and 22,000,000 for Herbert Hoover.

Debs, in 1912, got nearly 900,000 votes.

However, Socialists need not be downcast. Their candidate had a hard time, running against prosperity, 7,000,000 Coolidge plurality, the "wet-dry" question, etc. When people are as busy as that, they haven't time to think about Socialism.

More worry for the criminal. The steamship Aquitania, 600 miles at sea, received by wireless photographs from Daventry, England.

Hereafter a criminal leaving his country under an assumed name, may have his picture broadcast to every ship at sea.

Ever notice that th' same bird who apologizes t' no end when he happens t' bump against you, will crowd you clear offa th' road with a glare?

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight 4:33. Sun rises tomorrow 7:18.

Having a reputation among some people as being a bit shady is about equal to having a reputation as a crook among other people.

Not even Santa Claus will pay any attention to the demands of some ginks.

The foolish man expresses his thoughts. The wise man freights them.

You can tell when you are approaching a center of culture you begin to step on used gum.

Some men put over a sharp deal and call it good business. Others give you a square deal and know it's good business.

It might help some if they would change the motto on the American dollar from "In God We Trust" to "Abide With Me."

There are people who would rather have cash for a Christmas gift or something that can be easily pawned than a lot of junk that they cannot use. It's hard to please some birds even when you give 'em something.

ON EVERY STREET
By Franklyn Blanning.

At morn he wakens with a peeve
And gives his wife good cause to grieve.
When he goes out he slams the door
Which shakes a picture to the floor.

All day's he's sorry that he hurt
The nicest, sweetest little skirt;
He vows that he will make amends
As ugly guilt his conscience rends.

Swiftly he comes home from work,
No more he'll act like heartless Turk;
A little gift, an old-time kiss,
Will straighten out what is amiss.

He enters with a happy grin,
So eager to confess his sin;
But peace is turned to thirst for gore
As she reminds, "You slammed the door!"

At morn he wakens with a peeve
And gives his wife good cause to grieve.
Again he'll fret and know regret,
But why go on?—the plot is set.

Just now we are more confused about football than ever. We hear so many stories and versions that our limited knowledge of football tactics grieves us a lot as we do not really know where to place our sympathies if we should happen to arouse any. Everybody seems to be crooks but us.

A lot of chaps are hunting jobs, but there are still some who are more interested in the pay than in the work that would be required. Most all successful men did not consider the pay at all when they started out in life. They were looking for the opportunity to show some one they were worth while.

Sweet Young Thing.—"If you men would just quit looking at us girls in short skirts, we would quit wearing them."

"Yes, I suppose you would have to do something drastic."

A farmer knows a lot more about what we need than a golf player does about any such economical thing.

A little guy we know told us yesterday with his four-year-old enthusiasm that "The old man would soon be here." That will be one for old Santy to ponder over when he hears it.

It's a great feeling when you are going along the road in your car at about 40 miles an hour and some bird appears on your side of the road right ahead of you coming at about the same speed. It's now the quick thinker who gets out of such a place whole skinned or alive.

AN EGG CAN'T BE ALMOST GOOD

Yesterday a man I trusted and respected lied to me. He lied calmly and deliberately to avoid criticism. I did not contradict him or let him know that I knew he was lying; but I felt my heart grow cold with the shock of disappointment.

I never again will respect him. I never again will trust him. I never again will believe what he says. The part of him that made him a man is dead.

I shall see him hereafter as a shell—a thing that appears to be a man, but is without honor.

I confess to being a crank. But I cannot conceive of such a thing as an egg that is almost good. A woman cannot be almost chaste. A man cannot be almost truthful.

If he is capable of lying to me once, I know he is capable of lying to me again. However truthful he may be hereafter, I shall know that the capacity for lying to me is in him. And I never again shall feel closer to him than the east is to the west.

I have lost several friends in that manner—friends I loved, who lied to me and thereafter seemed unworthy of love. I have tried to love them, but you can't love treachery. There can be no love without complete faith.

I am not a supercilious judge of men, assuming the right to condemn the imperfect and posing as an example of righteousness. I know that men are much what they are born to be, and what environment makes them. I pity them all and forgive them all and blame nobody. If a man I love and trust lies to others, I feel both shame and disappointment, but I love him still.

But if he lies to me, he is no longer mine. There is a wall between us. He has turned his back on me. He has broken faith. I have lost him. There can be no friendship where there is suspicion.

You probably noticed that when President Coolidge finally praised a Democrat he picked out a dead one—Andy Jackson.

The apparent worst criminals are the weakest fish when they are caught and get the razzing that goes with it. They bawl out all they know.

A few evenings ago some local folks were going to New Wilmington in an automobile and the car was driven by as good a driver as there is in this city. Twice on the way to the college town he was forced off the road by yaps who just hogged the wrong side of the road. If a highwayman was coming towards a car on the road with a gun in his hand threatening death, would it be any worse than a dumb auto driver going towards people on the road carrying death with his car? Would the same means of self defense be permissable? The highwayman could be shot or killed in some other way and it would be justifiable.

Statistical reports to the contrary, the automobile business is not a stable business.

LOSING MORE THAN YOU SAVE

You can ride about the streets and never feel a touch of joy at the sound of children's laughter. You can see a visiting nurse going her rounds, and you may have no sense of service with her. You can go through a hospital and be conscious only of unhappy faces and disagreeable odors. You can pass along a corridor and glance into rooms where young mothers are nursing their first-born, and you may think only of white coverlets and human appetite. You may chance upon a troop of Boy Scouts on a hike, and your fancy may not run ahead with them to the woods and the campfire. You may see a senile old man kept warm and clean and happy through the benevolence of someone else, and you may petulantly ask yourself how much longer he is going to cumber the earth. In other words, you may be alive in body, but in spirit you may be dead to the laughter of childhood, to the ministry of sickness, to the holy happiness of mothers, to the imaginings of boyhood and to the gracious care of the aged. You may dwell in a city and contribute not one dollar to its community fund and have no part in all its striving. You may do all this, and none can say you nay. But you are losing vastly more than you save.

Perhaps we can get Ellwood City to play football with us next year. A date should be picked out when the weather had been dry for several weeks.

It must be a pleasure to attend a meeting and not be dunned for a contribution or appointed a member of a committee.

It's all right to look ahead, so long as you don't lose sight of the opportunities right under your nose.

It isn't difficult to find a golf ball if it's lost at home and the baby demands a drink at 3 a. m.

PASSING SHOWS

When the boss' importance begins to wane, he retains a show of importance by coming in late; when a woman begins to lose the bloom of youth, she retains a show of youth by litting her face; when an actor's popularity begins to decline, he retains a show of popularity by wearing louder spats and ties; when a politician's power begins to weaken, he retains a show of power by becoming a reformer.

Maybe the Senate objects to the buying of post office jobs because it doesn't like pikers.

All things are relative, and a dub golfer is anybody who plays even worse than the man who is talking.

It's easy to make money in Wall Street. Just pay any price for a stock some other fool will pay more for.

It is better this way. By easing the strain gradually, Mr. Coolidge can avoid exploding with language when his time is up.

Nation's Debt To Its Pioneers Recalled In Meeker Tributes

Death Of Near-Centenarian Who Followed Oregon Trail Through Wilderness To Final Frontier Closes An Amazing Career

Tributes to Ezra Meeker, pioneer, dead in his ninety-eighth year, record again the nation's debt to the men and women who toiled across the continent to carry the spirit and civilization of new America to the last frontier, and summarize the amazing developments within the span of this one man's life.

Ohio, Indiana, Iowa and Washington were Meeker's "home states." "He had become, especially in recent years, almost a national institution," says the INDIANAPOLIS NEWS, noting that "the enthusiasm that marked the spirit of the pioneer was strongly marked with him to the last." The LAFAYETTE JOURNAL AND COURIER feels that "it is impossible to compute the debt we owe to those who, like Ezra Meeker and his brave consort, gave their best years to the opening of the empire which today is the source and substance of our towering greatness as a nation and as a people."

"The death of Ezra Meeker," declares the SEATTLE DAILY TIMES, "brings a feeling of sincere regret to the people of the Pacific Northwest. He possessed in abundant measure the qualities of the men and women who settled this region—courage, vision and restless energy. His spirit was unconquerable; until his last illness he was planning for the future, preparing the ground work for new adventures.His life comprises the whole period of our great inventions and material and social progress.* Louis Napoleon was made emperor of France in the year that he started westward in his ox team. The Crimean war was started in the year that he opened a store at Fort Steilacoom. He was 24 when Commodore Perry opened the ports of Japan. He had watched Seattle grow from a cluster of cabins to a great city."

In similar vein the HARRISBURG TELEGRAPH states: "When Meeker started out over the old Oregon Trail, Abraham Lincoln was a struggling country lawyer, Gen. Grant was eking out a miserable living not far from Meeker's childhod home. Chicago was a village, Denver a spot in the wilderness, Edison had not been born." The OKLAHOMA CITY OKLAHOMAN believes that "of all the men who at anytime in four centuries saw any part of America's making it was given to Ezra Meeker to see more of it than any one else."

"When he was born there were 24 States in the Union; when he went west in 1852 there were 31; when he flew east in 1924 there were 48;" remarks the NEW YORK SUN, in measuring the flight of time and the progress of America during his lifetime, and the DETROIT NEWS pays its tribute to the West and to the pioneers: "All that vast land in this age to make the greatness of our country, and out of the Sunset pierced by the Meekers steps today a new President of the United States. 'Twas the Meekers who made this nation the giant it is."

"Every American city," suggests the CHAMPAIGN NEWS-GAZETTE, should erect a statue to the pioneers. And across the base of such a statue there might well be chiselled that chant of the frontier man, 'I'm not ready to die yet—I've got too much to do.'" The words of Meeker's last days are quoted also by the SOUTH BEND TRIBUNE, with the comment: "May that breed never pass from America." The pioneer's query, 'why should any man call labor a burden?" inspires the similar question from the FORT WAYNE NEWS-SENTINEL: "Wouldn't all of us get more out of life if we followed Father Meeker's philosphy—if we thought more of labor and less of pleasure?"

"No other 97 years of history have ever been so worth living as were his," observes the FORT WORTH RECORD-TELEGRAM. "No other similar number will be able to show the contrasts that opened before him. His was a full measure of life." His recent service is lauded by the SALT LAKE DESERET NEWS in the words: "He performed with affectionate devotion the task of perpetuating the various landmarks, camping sites, fords, passes, ferries and dugways of the original trail, and as a result of his intelligent labors, these spots are now appropriately marked for the information of future generations."

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

SEE IT THROUGH.

If you find it quite a tussle,
As you grind for daily bread,
Use your courage and your muscle—
Knock your problems on the head.
Life is hard and life is bitter,
But whatever else you do,
Don't you ever be a quitter—
See it through!

Fortune always favors good work
And rewards the man who sticks,
Whether what he sticks be woodwork,
Envelopes or stamps or bricks.
Fill the cracks in your ambitions,
Bathe yourself in liquid glue.
Ask the aid of your optician—
See it through!

Do not mourn if Fortune sets you
Where the tasks, though tough, are small,
Where the greater world forgets you
Or observes you not at all.
If you find the merest wee hole
Where there's work for you to do
Oor an in-ter-est-ing keyhole,

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST

I Win a Christmas Battle.

"It's too much" said mother,
"Much to much for us to pay."
And she knew that I was tempted,
So she bade me walk away.
"We can get a doll much cheaper,
And we've such a lot to do,
And you'd spoil the child completely
If her care were left to you."

In that crowded store we wrangled
Yes we did I must confess;
Had a good old family squabble,
You could term it nothing else,
And she called me idiotic,
And as stubborn as a mule.
I will also swear she called me,
Just a sentimental fool.

But I held my ground against her
Though most always I give way.
Said that most expensive dolly
Should be Janet's Christmas day.
And for once I won a battle,
Though I lose 'em as a rule
When it comes to Christmas shopping
It is fun to be a fool.

You cannot be attractive without a clear skin

EVERYBODY wants to be attractive. It is a great and just ambition. But no one can be attractive without a clear skin—you know that.

Do you realize the importance of pure, rich blood in preserving the health, and that the source of most skin disorders is in the blood?

Remove the cause, which is not in the skin itself, and pimples, boils, eczema and that sallow complexion will disappear.

You may have tried many things without relief. Why not try S.S.S.?

S.S.S. is extracted from the fresh roots of medicinal plants and herbs, and gives to Nature what she needs in building you up so that your system throws off the cause.

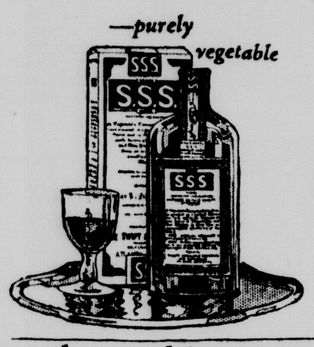

When your system is filled with rich, red blood, you don't have that tired, languid feeling when you awake in the morning. Instead, you feel refreshed, ready to meet the world.

Your appetite is keen—you enjoy work or play—your skin is clear, cheeks naturally rosy.

All this because rich, red blood builds and sustains the body.

Herbie Jina To Play His 'Fiddle'

Proves Volunteer No. 1 For Newsboys Dinner-Show New Year's Day

Herbie Jina, Chinese violinist today proved No. 1 of the volunteer performers who will entertain the Newsboys of New Castle at the Leslie house dinner-vaudeville fete, New Year's Day.

Herbie has appeared at many of the fetes arranged in this city and is a wizard in bringing music from one string instrument which he made himself.

Today Al Simpson and Ed. Fritz named Billy Williams, John McCoy, Bill Gardner, Bernie Mack, Bill Chill, Tom McMahon, Steve Griffith and others to serve on the committee which is arranging for the musical entertainment.

The dinner to be served is given annually by the Leslie house proprietors and the Carnegie Steel company. Superintendent R. J. Tully will be asked to permit the vaudeville show at the auditorium which he has gratuiously done every year.

Missionary's Talk Features Weekly Phalanx Meeting

D. F. McClelland, Y Worker In India, Describes Present Conditions There

"India" was the subject of the interesting talk that D. F. McClelland, Y. M. C. A. worker in that land, made to 16 members of the Phalanx fraternity of the local Y. M. C. A. Wednesday evening. The enjoyable message dealt with the conditions past and present of that land and the people who live there.

Mr. McClelland after remarking that he had read in The News about the book "Mother India" being the most popular volume in the library here, said that it contains a very unfair story of that land.

"It's the same as to have a native Indian come to this country, have him inspect the slum section of New York city and other large cities and then allow him to return to India and pen a story of the great America," said the missionary. "He wouldn't give a fair story of our country either."

Then the Y. M. C. A. worker continued by citing the condition of the land. He told of how England was attempting to bring the country to such a state that she could allow her to govern herself. Much time was spent over the political status that now exists and the minutes fully enjoyed.

At the next meeting of the Phalanx group W. P. Waldeck of this city will speak on education. It is planned to have the members of the Butler Phalanx fraternity present as special guests at that time. However it is not certain whether they will journey here for that meeting or not.

Quaker City Solons Work To Be Impaired

City Legislators Will Work Under Difficulties At General Assembly

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 13.—Philadelphia's standing in the new state legislature will be badly impaired by the present grand jury investigation of the city's policemen, politicians and recketeers.

Two of the city's representatives have already run into difficulties that will probably result in their permanent absence from the sessions of the legislature. They are Matthew Patterson who is already in prison and William Bond Smith who is under arrest.

Five other representatives and one senatorship have been lost by the Republicans to the Democrats. This fact added to the antipathy with the rural members of both houses usually regarded the Philadelphia members will seriously impair the prestige of the local members of the two houses, observers believe.

Patterson has appealed to the supreme court in an effort to be freed from the five year prison term he is now serving but there is very little likelihood of the court even returning a decision before the legislature is in session. Smith has not yet been tried.

Police Are Still Without Clue As To Identity Of Hit And Run Motorist

At the Shenango Valley hospital today it was stated that the condition of Domenic DeMarco, aged 12, 309 Division street, who was hit and severely injured Tuesday evening on Highland avenue by a man, who drove away in his car without rendering assistance, is much improved and his speedy recovery is now hoped for.

The police have made every effort to locate the hit-and-run motorist responsible for the condition of the boy, but so far have been unable to locate him. It was thought possibly for a time that the motorist might have a change of heart and come forward and admit his identity, but he has so far failed to show any sign of interest in the little fellow he ran down and injured.

Senate Committee Listens To Work Explain Things

Hubert Work, Former Secretary Of Interior Goes Before Senate Inquiry Board

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13.—Hubert Work, Republican national chairman and former secretary of the interior, today explained to the senate public lands committee his handling of the renewal of Harry F. Sinclair's Salt Creek royalty oil contract.

Work said the renewal was approved by the solicitor of the interior department, by the commissioner of the general land office and by the director general of the geological survey. It subsequently was held illegal by the department of justice and canceled by Work's successor, Roy O. West.

The inquiry is being held to determine West's "fitness" to serve in the cabinet.

"The Power of Prayer" was the topic of the Rev. C. D. Henderson. There will be another union service at St. Luke's church Friday evening and the following persons will be in charge of the song and prayer service: Elijah Gray, Mrs. Julia Wilson, Mr. McCarthy, Mrs. Washington, Mrs. Kimbro, Jerome Cooper, Charles Watson, Archie Eggleston, Mrs. Blanche Dillard and Mrs. Estella Brown. The Rev. William Hodge will deliver a message on the topic "Jesus' Idea of Visitation Evangelism." The meeting will begin at 8 o'clock.

Girl Is Wounded By "Unloaded" Gun

HUBBARD, O., Dec. 13.—Susie Marcu aged 12 of Hubbard will probably recover from wounds received when a gun which was not thought to be loaded exploded in the hands of her half-brother Johnny Slisher aged 17, the bullet passing entirely through her body and imbedding in a wall of the home.

Johnny had just arrived in Hubbard a week ago from his native land of Rumania and was examining several guns belonging to his stepfather. The guns were supposed to be empty. He pulled the trigger and the gun was discharged a bullet having been left in the chamber.

The youth was exonerated after a hearing before Mayor White of Hubbard.

Architect To Have Plans Ready Soon

Will Be Presented To Council At First Meeting In January

Plans for remodelling of the city building proper, and the East street building formerly occupied by the Central fire department, will be ready for presentation by Architect Wirsing to council for their first meeting in January.

When council sets the appropriations for 1929, the budget will contain an appropriation for remodelling.

The city will rent the office now used for treasury purposes and also may rent the office now used as a police court room and several offices on the third floor of the city building.

Delays Sweeping Until Shopping Time

In some of the larger cities ordinance prevents the sweeping of sidewalks after nine a. m. Today a local business man swept his sidewalk "between pedestrians" at 10:30 a. m.

Most businessmen sweep their sidewalks as soon as they open their places of business and before the shoppers throng the downtown district.

No one takes kindly to having someone sweep their clothes full of dust.

NEW CASTLE OUR CASTLE

The Woman's Club — Organized in 1889.

"GOD COULDN'T BE EVERYWHERE, SO HE MADE MOTHERS."

In this proverb, even the paggan recognizes in the mother, a God appointed guardian of the race.

Our own city knows no greater need than just such guardianship or mothering—for our homes, for our schools, for our recreations and for our public housekeeping. To aid such work is the aim of this column.

THE JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL

By

Dr. C. C. Green, Supt. of Schools

A knowledge of the origin and purpose of this school is necessary before its organization and operation can be understood. Furthermore, it is important that we differentiate between the loose application of the term "junior high school" and the standard type of institution which exists in New Castle. Unfortunately the term is frequently applied to mere departmental grammar grades, where none of the essential features of a standard junior high school exists.

It is perhaps unfortunate that the term "high school" was ever applied to this institution. It is in reality an intermediate school between the first six grades of the elementary school and the high school of ten, eleven, and twelve.

First, let us examine briefly the origin of the standard junior high school as it is known today.

The traditional school in America with its eight grades and eight years of work is not based upon any recognized educational theory or world precedent. It developed prior to the adoption of child labor laws. Pupils were merely permitted to attend school until they were considered old enough to go to work on the farm. They entered about the age of six and they quit about the age of fourteen.

The school term and school laws were based upon the ancient demand for "farm relief." Children entered school in the fall after the crops were harvested and they left school in the spring in time to assist in planting. The school day began in the morning after the children did their chores and it closed in the afternoon early enough for them to do the evening farm chores so well known to every man and woman whose childhood was spent on the farm. Social conditions have changed but in many cases we ramain unreasoning slaves to tradition.

The well known senior high school of four years was merely superimposed upon the eight years of grade work, largely through the colleges which then existed primarily for the training of preachers, lawyers, and doctors. The colleges demanded four years of high school training above the then existing elementary schools of eight grades. Here again, it is evident that social conditions have changed but we remain slaves to tradition.

About twenty-four years ago a new thought dawned upon the American people. Higher education for all or for all who desire it became the ideal. This led to a new type of high school known as the cosmopolitan four year high school. New responsibilities were placed upon the schools. The rapidly increasing enrollment and cosmopolitan type of pupils rendered necessary the establishment of a guidance program—educational, vocational, and social.

Educational leaders began to evolve who seriously studied childhood and his educational development. The unscientific and illogical organization of schools became evident. Psychologists recognized the three well defined periods of infancy, childhood, and youth, and it became evident that certain physical and mental differences in those periods demanded a differentiated type of treatment. Later study recognized that youth may be properly divided into two periods: early adolesence or that period beginning at about the age of 12 and ending at about the age of 15, and later adolescence or that period beginning at about 15 and ending at about 18. It is clear,of course, that there are variations from these ages in certain children. It is with the period of early adolescence that this discussion is chiefly concerned. Space does not permit a discussion of the psychology and phsiology of the early adolescent child. Suffice it to say that this is a very critical period in a child's development—the time when good tendencies are nurtured and bad tendencies are suppressed, the time when criminals are made and sturdy citizenship is developed. This places a serious responsibility upon the home and the school.

The early adolescent child is not ready for the greater freedom and greater personal responsibility of the senior high school and he is beyond the rigid program of the elementary schools. Hence a new type of school has been developed for him—The Junior High School, including grades 7, 8, and 9. Some of the characteristics of this school includes a comprehensive guidance program—educational, vocational, and social a partially differentiated curriculum for pupils of different capacities and tendencies; the direction of the child's activities in a broader sense than has been attenpted before; special attention to his physical well being; development of his emotional life along with his intellectual powers etc. Hence, this school has many features unknown to the traditional school. There is the auditorium, the gymnasium, swimming pool, orchestra, band, club work, industrial arts, home economics, library, health clinics, etc.

Schools of this type are too expensive to erect in small units. As a result some children are required to travel farther to school than they did when tthey were in the elementary schools. Supervised study in school and a relatively small amount of study out of school for children of this age seems desirable. For these and other valid reasons it becomes desirable for the school to assume responsibility for the child's full day—8:30-3:30. When it became evident that the full day was required to include the complete cycle of activities, great care was exercised that there would be sufficient variation to prevent fatigue.

Let us consider some of the features of a modern junior high school such as exist in the City of New Castle. Academic work: a slightly differentiated curriculum in grades eight and and nine to meet the varying needs, including many guidance features. Health provisions: .Health clinics, gymnasium, swimming pool, rest rooms, health instruction, and the cafeteria. Industrial arts: wood working and metal shops which exist for their intrinsic and practical educational value and for guidance purposes. Home economics: Sewing and cookery which exist for their intrinsic and practical educational value and for guidance purposes. Fine arts: bands, orchestra, class work in vocal music, music appreciation, drawing etc. Citizenship: Pupil participation in many kinds of mass activities, club work etc. Here they learn their responsibility as members of organized society.

Police Guard Shoppers Here

Usual precautions are being taken by the police according to Chief of Police C. C. Horner for the protection of the merchants and also the Christmas shoppers during the coming days until Christmas.

It is hoped that the measures taken have been sufficient to prevent much of the petty thieving but if necessary, greater precautions can and will be taken.

Up to the present time, there have been no signs of pickpockets, who often find it to their advantage to ply their trade in the Christmas season, when money is usually more plentiful and people more careless.

Pile Sufferers

Can You Answer These Questions?

Do you know why ointments do not give you quick and lasting relief?

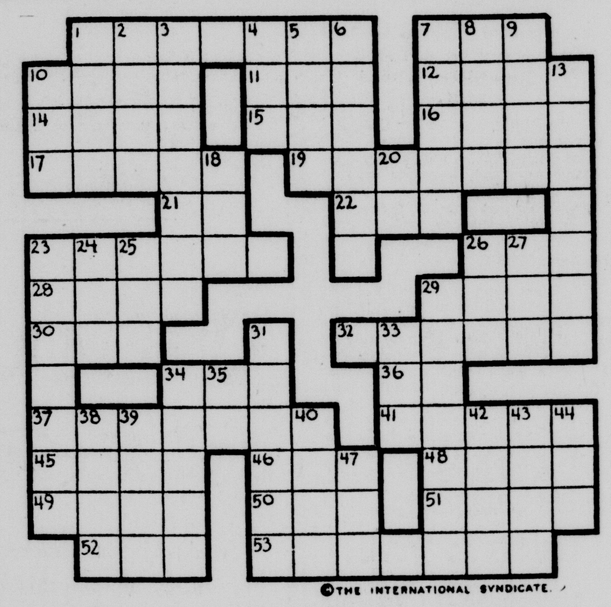

Why cutting does not remove the cause?

Do you know the cause of piles is internal? That there is a stagnation of blood in the lower bowel?

Do you know that there is an internal remedy discovered by Dr. Leonhardt and known as HEM-ROID, sold by McKee's Kut Rate Store, Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc. and all druggists with guarantee of money back if it fails?

HEM-ROID banishes piles by removing the cause—stagnation of blood in the lower bowel. This simple home treatment has an almost unbelievable record for sure, safe and lasting relief to thousands of pile sick sufferers, and saves the needless pain and expense of an operation.

PETER'S ADVENTURES in ANIMAL LAND

BY MRS. FLORENCE SMITH VINCENT

NOBODY HOME IN THE BURROW.

Dove was a bird who was anxious to have all things go well so having told Peter how to reach Turtle Dove's home he went on to tell him what to do when he got there.

"Just poke your head in at the fffrnt door and cry: "Ooh-hoo, Mrs. Turtle Dove, your cousin, Passenger Pigeon told me what two fine children you have and I have come over to see them for myself.'

"That will bring her out you may be sure of that. She is the fondest mother you ever saw. And I hope that Mr. Turtle Dove is at home. All we Pigeons are quite proud to be related to the Turtle Doves; they are famous the world over you know, for being so devoted to each other.

"Well, so long friend I never can stay long in any one place and I have been here quite a while now. Good luck to you. I hope I meet you again some time, but I doubt it. Something is liable to happen to me at any time. When there are only a few of a race left there is not much hope for the health and happiness of those few.

"However time enough to worry when trouble does come!" With the last words Passenger Pigeon spread his wings and flew off.

The boy was sorry to have his old friend leave. Even if all his adventures had happened in Dreamland he had had a very fine time. But he had learned in Birdland that it didn't pay to spend any time in regret. The only sensible way was to make the best of things as they were. So he decided to run over and make a visit to the Turtle Doves.

Following the fence in a few moments he had come to the corner and there sure enough was the rabbit burrow. Peter wondered if it had once belonged to Sonny-Bunny and his mother. It looked very much like the one they lived in now.

Not a bird in sight! Remembering what Dove had told him he poked his head into the opening and called "Ooh-hoo, Mrs. Turtle Dove."

But there was no answer. Peter backed away much disappointed, yet still keeping his eye upon the burrow in chance she should appear. Just then a voice directly behind him said:

"Well stranger what do you think of our home. And if it is not too much to ask, what are you doing here anyhow?'

Farm Subjects On For Annual Exhibit

HARRISBURG, Dec. 13.—Subjects of interest to every Pennsylvania farmer are included in the programs of the twenty-five state-wide farm organizations, which are holding annual meetings during the State Farm Products Show in Harrisburg, January 22-25.

The programs of all the associations have been assembled by the State Farm Products Show Commission, and will be available in booklet form about January 1.

Among the associations holding meetings are: State Council of Agricultural Associations, State Horticultural Association, Potato Growers' Association, Tobacco Growers' Association, Sheep - Breeders' and Wool Growers' Association, State Beekeepers' Association, Livestock Breeders' Association, Dairymen's Association, Federation of Holstein - Friesian Clubs, Ayrshire Breeders' Association, Jersey Cattle Club, Guernsey Breeders' Association, Hereford Breeders' Association, Berkshire Breeders' Association, Chester White Breeders' Association, Duroc-Jersey Breeders' Association, Poland China Breeders, Association, State Poultry and Baby Chick Associations, Threshermen's and Farmers' Protective Association, Society of Farm Women, Pennsylvania Farm Bureau Federation, Association of Dairy and Milk Inspectors, State Entomological Society and Pennsylvania Joint Committee on Rural Electrification.

A thrifty man has no chance. Just when we learned to send post cards instead of Christmas gifts they began to make 35 cent cards.

War Is Imminent In South America Revealed In Note

Paraguayan Government Sends Identic Notes To Washington Officials

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13.—Because of alleged provocative measures by Bolivia, war is imminent between Paraguay and Bolivia.

This was the gist today of identic notes from the Paraguayan government which were delivered by the charge d'affaires, Juan Ramirez, to Secretary of State Kellogg and to Victor M. Maurtua, Peruvian minister, who is chairman of the Pan American conference's special mediation committee.

The notes reiterated charges that Bolivia is massing troops and war supplies on the frontier.

Private dispatches to Secretary Kellogg, however, did not indicate such a grave situation as described by Ramirez. There is no evidence, Kellogg said, that Bolivia is mobilizing large numbers of troops.

Police Locate Still In Home

City police officers in entering and searching the premises of William Kashinsky, 1716 Hamilton street, Wednesday night found the first illicit still in operation in this city in many months. They also found and confiscated some three gallons of finished liquor.

Kashinsky was arrested and brought with the still and liquor to the police station. He was taken before Alderman Walter T. Hamilton this morning, where he was charged by the chief of police with violation of the Snyder act. He gave bail in the sum of $1,500 for his appearance at a hearing to be held Friday between 3 and 4 o'clock.

The officers making the raid were Lieutenant of Police Peter Hillers, Detective John Young and Officers Ray Thompson and David Thomas and Constable A. S. Leslie.

Alleged Larceny Case Being Tried

Dan Sisko of Slippery Rock township is on trial at court before Judge Hildebrand today on a charge of larceny preferred by Mrs. Anna B. Hill of the same township. Mrs. Hill claims that a spare tire and rim and a license plate were stolen from her car parked near her home and that they were later found at the home of Sisko. Mrs. Hill said that soon after she missed the tire, she was told by a neighbor that it was at the Sisko home. She came to Alderman Mantz's office, made an information and in company with Constable R. B. Morrow went to the Sisko home, where she found the missing articles. Sisko denies the theft, claiming that he found them.

Officer Shoots Numerous Dogs

In response to a number of requests of dog owners, Officer Charles Longstreth on Wednesday shot several dogs, whom the owners had reason to believe might be suffering from disease that might prove dangerous.

The police are continuing their campaign against dogs running at large and especially those, which are unlicensed.

Owners of licensed dogs are urged to keep their animals tied up in accordance with the provisions of the law, not only as a matter of abiding by the law, but to prevent a possible spread of any dread disease from which some of the animals may be suffering.

Cars Are Being Parked In Alleys

Considerable parking of automobiles in alley ways is seen at night, especially in the downtown business district. Sometime ago it was said that police would curb this menacing practice. In case of fire in the business section where an alley might have to be invaded by fire apparatus the cars, parked and locked, would prove a big handicap.

Four Members Of City Library Staff Are Reported Ill

Public Libraries Remain On Schedule Despite Only Five Persons In Charge

Four of the nine members of the New Castle Public Library staff are ill at their home with the flu at the present time. They are Miss Rose Barber, Miss Gladys Gray and Miss Alice Morrison and Paul Wilson.

Despite the fact that but five of the staff are able to attend to the main library and the three branches, all have remained on the same schedules, state Alice M. Sterling, librarian.

Although there is perhaps some of the work that has to be neglected somewhat, the staff hopes to keep all of the libraries on their present schedule of opening despite their present handicap.

WARREN, OHIO, POLICE ISSUE WARNING HERE

Police of this city have received warning from the police authorities of Warren, Ohio, advising them of the fact that there is a man operating in this district, who is robbing telephone toll boxes. He is described as being about 23 years of age and wearing dark clothing and he travels in a Dodge coupe.

Legion To Form Drum Corps Here

Announcement is made that members of the Perry S. Gaston post of the American Legion, at a recent meeting, authorized the appropriation of $300 for the organiziog of an official post bugle and drum corps. Twenty-one legionnaires have already signified their intentions of joining and present indications point to one of the best organizations of its kind in this section.

A. H. Robb has been named conductor of the corps and it is said that work of organizing the group has been started. The bugle and drum corps can assist the legion post in its numerous activities throughout the year and can play a major part in the advertising of the New Castle post.

When the bugle and drum corps is started here it will mark the fifth organization of its kind to be originated in the 26th legion district. Posts in Ellwood City, Evans City, Butler, and Ambridge already boast of such an organization.

Wife Says Husband Pinched Her Nose And Also Her Arms

Another Husband Says Wife Beat His And Declared She Wished Auto Would Kill Him

Alleging that he pinched her nose and arms until the latter were black and blue Mrs. Edith Pearl Wilt has filed an application in court for divorce from her husband Robin Wilt on the grounds of cruel and barbarous treatment.

Mrs. Wilt also alleges that her husband struck her and told people that he was ashamed of her although she had never done anything to warrant such an accusation. They were married in April, 1927 and lived together until the following June. The ill-treatment is said to have started soon after their marriage.

Claiming that his wife struck and beat him Ed Piwowar has filed an application for divorce from his wife Anna Piwowar on grounds of cruelty. Piwowar also claims his wife threatened to kill him and declared that she hoped that an automobile would strike him and kill him. They were married in April 1915 and lived together until October 1928.

Two Fires Break Out At Same Place

Damage To New Castle Box Sawdust Bins Is Estimated At $200

Two fires broke out in the sawdust bin owned by the New Castle Box Company, Wednesday afternoon and this morning, causing damage amounting to $200.

The first alarm was sounded Wednesday afternoon at 2:25 and called fire companies No. 5 and No. 7 to 900 North Cedar street, where the sawdust bin is located. No damage was done at this blaze and it is thought to have been caused by a spark from a passing locomotive on the Pennsylvania tracks dropping a spark on the top of the bin. Some sawdust which was on the top of the bin caught fire, and dropped into the bin. No. 7 company laid 600 feet of hose and used some chemical to extinguish the fire. Companies were in the service at 3:45. The damage was extremely slight.

Another alarm at 6:40 this morning called the same companies back to the sawdust bin where they found it burning.

Assistant Fire Chief Claire Stockman believes that the second fire was caused by some smouldering sawdust that had dropped behind partitions of the bin at the time of the first fire Wednesday afternoon. Again No. 7 company laid 600 feet of hose. The companies were back in service at nine o'clock. Damage at the second blaze was estimated at $200. The partitions of the building were only partly burned.

BAD CHECK CASE QUICKLY SETTLED

A check cashed by Nick George was on Wednesday returned marked no funds in the bank on which it was written. The case was placed in the hands of Detective C. G. Logan. George claimed that the check, which was for $40, had been given to him by a friend and believing it good he had endorsed and cashed it. He made the check and the protest fees good and the case was dropped.

Near Vote On Boulder Dam

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13.—Boulder dam was headed toward a vote in the senate today.

A cloture rule providing no senator might speak more than once or longer than 15 minutes on the bill or any amendment greased the way. Leaders of both the opposing and supporting forces made unqualified predictions of settlement of the long controversy before the senate adjourns Friday.

Senator Johnson (R) of California, author of the bill, who fought unsuccessfully to get a vote through the closing hours of the last session, also held this view, as did a number of others.

At least three hours will be available for debate on the giant irrigation and waterpower project today, if it is desired to use them. The opening three hours of the senate, from noon until 3 o'clock when cloture becomes effective, will be used for debate on the treasury and postoffice appropriations bill, after which the Boulder dam will be continuously before the senate until disposed of. The six hours from noon until 6 o'clock tomorrow afternoon are regarded as ample time in which to dispose of it.

Although Brazil has a successful good roads drive the only large automobile show in the country this year was a failure.

Coolidge May Be Senator

May Replace Gillett As Senator From Massachusetts Next Term

EX-PRESIDENT LIKELY TO STAY IN POLITICS

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Washington Correspondent For Central Press and New Castle News

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13.—No one in Washington is rash enough to expect Calvin Coolidge to tell, a single split second in advance, what he means to do with himself after March 4 next.

That he intends to go back to Northampton to live is assumed from the fact that he has bespoken a post-presidential residence there.

However, this means very little concerning his future activities.

He is not deemed likely to vegetate. Work is exceedingly necessary to him, as all who have watched him in the White House must realize. Leisure bores him.

True, he did say something once about sitting and whittling. Figuratively speaking, it is conceivable that he might sit and whittle for awhile, while considering, "What next?" He might even take his time about making up his mind, but he certainly would not keep on whittling indefinitely. That New England conscience of his never would permit undue idling on his part.

Mr. Coolidge draws toward the end of his term with a lot of work left in him—only 56 years old and probably in the best health of any president who ever completed an administration.

Motives of economy alone would prevent him from loafing long.

I do not mean that I think money will interest him greatly. I mean I think he will consider that, while his productive capacity remains first class, he would be committing a high crime if he wasted any of it.

He doubtless will take a vacation—during which the whole country will continue to wonder about his plans—and then I feel certain he will plunge into some task already chosen by him, long ago. A president is not likely to see his successor's inauguration day approaching without deciding how he, too, can best occupy himself subsequently.

My own theory is that Mr. Coolidge will stay in politics. It has been his life. I question if he could be happy out of it.

I can hardly imagine him accepting such a post as head of the American Petroleum Institute, as has been suggested. The soon-to-retire chief executive has an extremely lofty conception of the presidency's dignity—which I believe he would extend to include the dignity of the ex-presidency. After all the talk there has been of "oil" in recent years, the Petroleum Institute dictatorship would not be particularly dignified for an ex-president.

The late Judge E. H. Gary's position with the United States Steel corporation, also mentioned, would be better. Yet steel is wholly outside Mr. Coolidge's line. He is no captain of industry. Of course, his name would be an asset to the steel corporation, but I doubt if he would enjoy becoming a mere figurehead.

A senate seat strikes me as an ideal ex-presidential niche.

Mr. Coolidge, as a senator from Massachusetts, would occupy a place almost more important than when he dwelt in the executive mansion. He would speak with 10 times the authority of any other senator—by virtue of his former office.

His importance—and his power—would be such that it seems impossible the idea can have failed to occur to him—and, if it did, to have appealed to him.

There will be a Massachusetts senator to elect in 1930. At present the toga is Senator Gillett's, but Senator Gillett will be 80 by the end of his current term. It is unlikely he will care to run again. In the meantime Mr. Coolidge will have had a comfortable year and a half of rest, and it will be surprising if he cannot be elected to the senate from Massachusetts.

To me the thing looks so logical that I can scarcely see a chance of escape from it.

State Guardsmen Number Over 11,000

Strength Of Pennsylvania Guard Has Been Increased 600 Per Cent

(Special To The News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 13.—Residents of Pennsylvania are not overly enthusiastic about wearing the uniform of the National Guard unit of the state it would appear from figures contained in the annual report of the chief of the militia bureau. Figures reveal on June 30, the strength of the Pennsylvania unit was 511 men under the authorized strength of the guard.

On June 30 the strength of the Pennsylvania Guard consisted of 10,907 enlisted men, 829 commissioned officers and twelve warrant officers, an aggregate of 11,748fl The authorized strength on that date was 11,351 enlisted men, 895 commissioned officers and 13 warrant officers an aggregate of 12,259 according to the report of the militia bureau chief.

The strength of the Pennsylvania National Guard unit has been increased approximately 600 per cent during the past eight years increasing from an aggregate enrollment of 2,118 on June 30, 1920 to 11,748 on June 30 of the present year.

Berks County Joins Ranks Of Shepherds

Services At Temple Israel Will Take Place Friday Evening At 8 O'clock

(International News Service)

READING, Pa., Dec. 13.—Berks county has joined the ranks of the sheep raisers. That is believed to be the first sheep ranch in the east has been established on 200 acres of land near Boyertown by Allen C. Lessig.

The experiment will take place on the farm of Dr. Charles B. Dotterer where 642 sheep already are being pastured. The animals were purchased in White Sulphur Springs, Montana, and range in age from one year to six years old.

Seven Bucks Cast Hunters Big Fine

BUTLER, Pa., Dec. 13.—Game Protector Joseph M. Curtz, Butler, in distributing seven bucks which had been illegally killed this week in Clearfield county. It is said that hunters paid over $1,400 in fines to the state for violating the hunting laws.

Curtz took a truck to Dubois and brought the deer to Butler. One of the animals goes to the Orphans' Home at Mars and another to a similar institution in Zelienople. The Butler County Home gets one, St. Barnabas Home of Men at Gibsonia get another and the last of five was given to the Salvation Army of Butler. Disposition of the remaining two animals has not been made.

County Has Some Two Miles Of Drift Fences

Ten miles of highway drift fences have been replaced in both Lawrence and Mercer counties this fall, states H. W. Lightner, maintenance superintendent of the Pennsylvania State Highway department for this district, which includes the two counties mentioned, and whose headquarters are located in the seventh ward.

Of these ten miles of fence, states Mr. Lightner, but two of these miles are located in Lawrence. Differences in topography are the reasons for the lesser rods of fencing to keep the snow from the highways in this county.

In Mercer county, though they may have little more snow than here, the land is much more level and consequently there are fewer natural barriers to break the snow.

Elevations in the ground at least near the road side have lessened Lawrence county's need for such fencing. The greatest amount of fence for the county, stated Mr. Lightner, was required on the Youngstown road.

Each fall these fences are put up and in the spring all have to be taken down again and piled up for the summer. This must be done partly to prolong the life of the fence and also to clear the cultivated fields of the obstruction during the harvest season.

These fences are the state highway department's latest innovation to prevent an obstruction to traffic by drifting snow. They have been in use for the past three years.

Boy Scout Leaders Will Dine Friday

Some 40 Boy Scout masters and assistant Scout leaders are expected at the Scout leaders' oyster banquet which will take place Friday evening at the First Presbyterian church on North Jefferson street.

The meeting will be open only to Scout troop masters and assistants. Following the dinner plans for the Scout program will be made.

Every Scout leader who can possibly be there is asked to attend by J. Lee Calahan, chief Scout executive.

Scouts Will Have Cooking Contest

Saturday morning, starting at 10 o'clock sharp, the Lawrence county Scouts will start their outdoor cooking contest at Whaley Vale, which is located just east of the Highland car line stop on the North Hill, states J. Lee Calahan, Scout executive.

Several hundred Scouts from troops throughout the entire city and county will be present and try for honors in outdoor cooking. The contest will last from 10 a. m. until two p. m.

Make Reports To Red Cross

Numerous Districts In Country Are Heard From At Headquarters

Mrs. Scott Kildoo of Princeton has reported to Red Cross headquarters here that 29 "annual" Red Cross memberships were secured in the organization's annual roll call in that district. One donation was also received.

From Hickory township, Mrs. Fred Moser sends words that already 23 "annual" memberships were obtained by the canvassers there.

The annual membership effort is being continued in numerous sections of the county where an extension of time was requested. These reports will not reach the New Castle office until the last of the week, or even later.

The greater portion of the reports from different sections of the county are now beginning to reach Red Cross attaches here, and it is not expected to be long before the general results of the 12th annual drive are known. The reports will be compiled just as soon as time allows, officials state.

Ruth Elder Says She Still Loves Former Husband

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 13.—Ruth Elder, aviatrix and actress, when shown dispatches today telling of the granting of an interlocutory decree of divorce to her husband, Lyle Womack, in Panama, expressed regret that the action had been taken.

"It hurts me a great deal to know that the decree has been granted," she said. "I didn't want it. I still love him.'

City And County Election Now Looms On Horizon; Many Candidates Likely

With but few weeks breathing time since the heat of the recent national election, the political germ seems to have gone back on a regular shift and by the first of the year should be turning out prospective candidates with the same regularity that it has been since the first election of the world.

Here in Lawrence County the 1929 election will be a large one, and because it will be entirely a local election, the list of candidates will probably be large. Already there are candidates mentioned for the various city and county offices, although the primaries are not until the fall of 1929.

Important Offices

The offices to be filled are important ones, both as to city and county. In the city two councilmen will be selected, a city controller, and three school directors. In the county, a district attorney must be elected, a sheriff, a register and recorder and some of the smaller offices.

Because of their importance, the district attorney and sheriff fight are occupying the most attention at the present time. The incumbent, District Attorney J. Elder Bryan has not definitely declared himself in the matter but is understood to be considering the matter of running for a second term. The present outlook shows three candidates probably opposing him, Attorney Charles R. Davis, Attorney Orville Brown and Attorney John S. Powers.

If all the candidates mentioned in the sheriff fight decide to enter the race will look like a cross section of a city directory. Deputy Sheriff William McK. Reynolds is spoken of as a candidate, Game Protector Frank N. Johnson, Juvenile Officer Jack Dunlap, County Detective William G. Fleming, Former County Detective George S. Kennedy, Mark Butler, F. A. Hamill, Edward Pritchard, with many more no doubt whose names do not appear here.

Register and Recorder

For register and recorder Miss Jeanette Hutton will be a candidate for re-election. She has served one regular term to which she was elected and three years to which she was appointed following the death of William Neff. Few candidates have been mentioned for this office, although it is understood that friends of A. Edward Russell are urging him to run. It is understood that one other woman candidate will be in the race.

In the city council race there has been little talk. The two incumbents whose tterms will expire, D. O. Davies and Walter V. Tyler will likely run, although there has been no statement to this effect. The name of Bes Lusk has been prominently mentioned as a candidate and rumor has it that former Mayor William H. Dunlap may be a candidate.

For city controller Phil G. Greer, who has served but a short time under appointment will be a candidate. In this office also there has been little talk of any fight.

School Directors

On the School Board there will be three vacancies, those of Mrs. J. C. B. Douthett, Dr. W. L. Campbell and Joseph E. Ligo. Usually it is necessary to "draft" candidates for the school board so that any mention of probable candidates at this time would be conjectural.

It is early yet of course to give any definite idea of all the candidates for the various offices but it is certain that there will be plenty of them. In the meantime the district attorney and sheriff fight continue to occupy the spotlight of prognostication.

Pittsburgh Adopts Centralized Control

Modern Accounting Methods Are Basis Of New "Pittsburgh Plan"

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 13.—Modern accounting methods in city business is the basis of the "Pittsburgh plan"—a system for the centralized control of all disbursements involving the city's annual income of more than $25,000,000—which will become effective January 1, according to plans being formulated in the office of the city controller here.

The new system is a variation of what is now known as the "Baltimore plan." Important features of the plan are:

1. Mechanical posting equipment will record the entry of appropriations, encumberances, vouchers and warrants issued in liquidation of obligations incurred.

2. The total of each of the items listed will be automatic, totalizers being attached to the posting machines.

3. The system may be extended to include centralized control of unused supplies, materials equipment in stock of all city departments.

4. Responsibility for recording and safekeeping of all unused stocks, under the new system would be placed under one head. This head it is understood will be either in the department of supplies or in the controller's office.

5. The new system will provide an automatic check on the adequacy of unused stock balances.

Automotic recording machines have already been purchased by the city and they with other equipment will be set up in the controller's office soon.

Potato Wart Ban Area Is Enlarged

Quarantine Has Been Effective In Coal Regions Since 1918

HARRISBURG, Dec. 13. — The quarantine which prevents the planting of any, except wart-immune, varieties of potatoes has been enlarged to include two new areas in Cambria county, according to the bureau of plant industry, Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture. One area is described as "a strip of land, exclusive of farm land, in Washington township, adjoining the borough of Lilly, running seven-tenths of a mile east from the borough limits along the Veigleton road, and extending 300 yards north and 300 yards south of said road." The second addition is "the area in Elder township, exclusive of farm lands, covered by a radius of four-tenths of a mile, centering on the school house in Flannigan Run."

The potato wart quarantine has been in effect in fifty-eight towns and villages in the coal regions of Pennsylvania since 1918. Since 1922 no new wart infections were found until this year.

Scout Carnival Is Held By First Christian Troop

Boy Scouts Have Big Event In First Christian Church Wednesday Evening

The First Christian church Boy Scout troop 15 on Wednesday evening, Dec. 12, held the Scout carnival. A large number of friends and parents were present. This was one of the biggest events of the year. Special guests of the evening were Scout Executive J. Lee Calahan and Mrs. Calahan, Scoutmaster Ralph F. Davis of the Highland troop 18.

The carnival began at 7:30 with inspections of the scouting exhibitions and side show and buying candy. There was a telegraph model airplane, antique ship, deer antlers, all the troop papers, fossils, knot boards, trail signs, stamp collections and first aid. From eight to 8:45 a moving picture was the chief attraction. Scoutmaster Sidney Smith operated the picture machine.

The pictures were of activities at Camp John Phillips. Scoutmaster Smith gave a very interesting explanation of how pictures were made in their true colors and showed a short reel to demonstrate it. From 8:45 to 9:15 Elliott Francis and his assistant, Junior Pheras, demonstrated some very interesting magic tricks. He changed water into wine and back to water again. He also has the power of changing a red handkerchief to a green one.

Following this Ralph Montgomery was presented with his first-class badge by his scoutmaster. At 9:30 the Indian show began. Roland Levine, Roy Patton, Howard Hart, William Nunn and Oscar Patton danced a few Indian dances to the rythm of a tom tom. They were dressed in real Indian suits. From 9:45 till 10 o'clock another picture was shown. This was on the type of a comedy. Then the Scouts, officials and parents had a good chat. The carnival closed by the troop falling in and Howard Hart, troop bugler, playing taps.

We wish to thank all the parents and friends who attended and helped make this carnival a success. We also wish to thank Mr. Mackie, who donated the Indian suits, and E. R. Montgomery for donating the model airplane and ship for the scouting exhibition corner.

The First Christian church Boy Scout troop 15 held its regular meeting Tuesday evening, Dec. 11, at 7:30 in the First Christian church. There was a large attendance of Scouts and officials. The meeting was in charge of Scoutmaster Sidney Smith and his two assistants, Ron McCoy and George McCracken. They prepared for the carnival which was held last evening.

The Pine Tree Patrol held its weekly meeting at Herby Rodgers' home at 840 Franklin avenue. A large number of boys were present and Scoutmaster Sidney Smith was also present. Many tests were passed. Refreshments were served. The next meeting will be held at the home of George McCracken on Fern street at 7:30 p. m. Friday, Dec. 14.

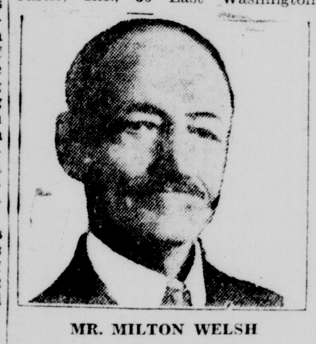

Troop 15 will hold its regular meeting next Tuesday, Dec. 18, at 7:30 p. m. at the First Christian church. This will be an important meeting and all Scouts are requested to be present.

Scribe, Ralph Montgomery.

He Could Hardly Walk Because Of Terrible Pains

New Castle Man's Whole System Was Disordered: Relieved By Famous Ten Herbs

"Since taking Ten Herbs, I feel ten years younger," was the recent statement of Mr. Milton Welsh, 909 Canyon street, New Castle, to the Ten Herbs Man, who is at Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., 30 East Washington

MR. MILTON WELSH

Street, this city, where he is daily demonstrating this famous new herbal compound to crowds of men and women.

"About ten months ago my whole system seemed to get out of order," continued Mr. Welsh, who is 65 years of age and a furnace man. "My stomach did not function properly. After eating I would fill with gas and bloat. Food, bitter and as sour as vinegar, would arise in my throat. I became very nervous and suffered with headaches. I was dizzy and spots were before my eyes. My skin was sallow. I did not get proper rest, having to arise several times at night. The pains in my back were so terrible that I could hardly walk.

"I read about Ten Herbs in the newspapers and learned what wonderful help your medicine had been to others. I got a bottle and was benefited right from the start. I continued using Ten Herbs for awhile, and it has been a great help to me. My stomach is in such fine condition that my food digests properly. Gas and that nauseated feeling have been entirely relieved. My nerves are strong. My liver is in good condition, with the result that dizziness and spots before my eyes have entirely passed away. Those terrible pains in my back have been relieved, and I get a good night's rest. I can recommend Ten Herbs to all who suffer with stomach trouble, or a run-down condition."

So many men and women of this city and throughout this section have been helped back to health by Ten Herbs that this medicine's popularity probably has exceeded that of any medicine ever introduced here. Its tremendous success is due to the fact that it does not act on one organ alone, but benefits the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels and gives the whole system a thorough cleansing.

The Ten Herbs Man is at Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., 30 East Washington street, this city, where he is daily meeting the public and explaining the merits of this medicine.

BOY IS BLINDED PLAYING INDIAN

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Dec. 13.—Struck in the eye by an iron-weed stalk shot from an improvised bow, Gilbert Gouwin, aged nine, of Georges township, lost his sight. The lad is in the Uniontown hospital.

About a score of youths were playing Indian during the recess period and Donald Show quickly improvised a bow and arrow by utilizing a piece of elder, a small rubber band and the iron weed stalk.

FOUND GUILTY ON MANSLAUGHTER CHARGE

BEAVER, Pa., Dec. 13.—Raymond Van Fossen, Sutersville, Pa., was found guilty of voluntary manslaughter in the death of Thomas Stork, Beaver Falls. Van Fossen pleaded self defense. The state poduced testimony to show that Stork had called the police on the telephone and notified them he feared for his life from Van Fossen, and that, after the shooting, Van Fossen fled the town. It was admitted, however, that Van Fossen later returned and gave himself up to the police.

A CLEAR COMPLEXION

Ruddy cheeks—sparkling eyes—most women can have. Dr. F. M. Edwards for 20 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave his patients a substitute for calomel made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. Know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system.

If you have a pale face, sallow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.

Thousands of women and men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—now and then to keep fit. 15c, 30c and 60c.

Dempsey Gets Hurricane Facts

Over 2000 Deaths And Damage To Thousands Of Homes—Relief Completed

The number of persons affected by the West Indian hurricane which in September caused heavy loss of life and property destruction in Florida, Porto Rico and the Virgin Islands is placed at 560,000 in a preliminary report on the disaster and the subsequent relief work of the American Red Cross made public today by Pat Dempsey, executive secretary of the local chapter.

Reported deaths in Porto Rico are given in the report as 271, while more than 3,000 persons were injured. In Florida more than 1,800 were killed, mostly by drowning, and about the same number injured. Property damage was extensive in both areas, it is said, a total of 168,609 homes and other buildings being destroyed or damaged in both lands. So heavy was the destruction on the islands that not less than a half million persons were left destitute.

All emergency relief work in both disaster areas has been completed, the report states, and the Red Cross is now concentrating its efforts on reconstruction measures, looking toward the permanent reestablishment of families. Reconstruction work in Florida is making rapid progress although some delay has been caused by water remaining on the land in the Lake Okeechobee area.

Acknowledgement is made in the report of the quick action of the Red Cross chapters and other agencies which sprang into action at once in many cases, and also of the extensive cooperation received from the American Legion, the army, the navy, the United Public Health service, United States coast guard service, and railroad and steamship lines, and other public utilities which made large donations of service.

Basketball Team Is Organized By Highland Scouts

Highland Troop 18 Will Hold Court Of Honor This Coming Week

Highland Church Boy Scout Troop 18 held a very ineresting meeting in the "Highland Caves" on Tuesday evening, December 11 with Scoutmaster R. F. Davis presiding. He was assisted by Assistant Scoutmaster Gates and Senior Patrol Leader Jack Stevenson. Dr. T. J. McFate chairman of the troop committee, J. M. Wallace, L. A. Sehls and T. C. Boston were present. Bill Sehls was a special guest. There was a large attendance.

Scribe George Winter read the minutes of the previous meeting, called the roll and collected dues. The opening exercises were in charge of Senior Patrol Leader Jack Stevenson.

Oscar Patton and George McCracken were visitors from the First Christian church Boy Scout Troop 15 and they advertised the Troop Scout Carnival to be given in the First Christian church on Wednesday evenig December 12. Scout Patton gave an Indian war dance and taught the scouts a few words of the Sioux Indian tongue.

Two new boys, Heber Baldwin and T. L. Mays applied for membership to the troop and were approved.

The troop is organizing a basketball team. Several basketball suits will be ordered to complete the troop's out fit. Practice games between the patrols were arranged and in a week or two the troop will be ready to challenge any team.

On Tuesday evening of next week at 7:30 the troop will hold a Court of Honor. The scouts and their parents will attend. An entertainment will be given by the scouts and the troop committee. The speakers will be members of the local scout council. Scout Executive J. Lee Calahan will also attend. The public is cordially invited.

The Highland Church Troop 18 have chosen Dave Nesbitt, Tom Parlett, Tom Trodden, Junior Brown and Jack Stevenson as the team to enter the cooking contest on Saturday, December 15 at Whaley Vale.

Scribe—Jack Stevenson.

Five Damage Cases Defended

City Solicitor Has Five Court Trials For City During Year

During the past year Solicitor Robert M. White in pursuance of his duties as legal representative of the city defended the city in five damage cases.

Today he gave the status of the cases.

In the case wherein it was alleged that Mrs. Thomas had fell on ice on the sidewalk at Mercer and Washington streets, a jury awarded a verdict to the plaintiff but on argument the court struck off the award, opining that the city was only liable when there is an ice ridge or faulty sidewalk. The plaintiffs appealed the case.

In the case of K. C. Holms which was brought as the result of an auto accident near North Jefferson street and Wilmington avenue, the court refused to take off the award and the case was carried to superior court and will be argued in April.

In the case of Fair vs city of New Castle, one in which the plaintiff alleged he was driving across the West Washington street bridge and was injured, the jury brought a verdict against the city. The case has been argued and the city has asked that the verdict be set aside.

In a property damage suit brought by Meninchino vs city of New Castle, as the alleged running of water over the Meninchino property the jury returned a verdict against the city but Solicitor White asked that for the judgment notwithstanding be set aside. The court has not yet handed down an opinion.

List Of New Drivers Shows Small Decline

HARRISBURG, Dec. 13. — Fewer persons took their initial tour behind the wheel of an automobile during 1928 than ran the gauntlet during 1927, the Department of Highways notes. Learner permits issued this year, up to November 30, totaled 234,467, while in 1927 there were 267,929, a decrease of 12.5 per cent, which may be cut down slightly when December figures are included.

After a careful investigation of two weeks, the New York police department has arrived at the conclusion that this Rothstein who was assassinated is dead.—The Janesville Daily Gazette.

Salvation Army Asks For Funds

Army Endeavors To Make Christmas Happy For Great Many People

Keep the kettles boiling!

That is the word which comes from Adjutant E. J. Parkins of the local Salvation Amy, in making his plea for money so that the poor of New Castle will not need on Christmas day

"Christmas is fast approaching," he says, "and is to be a time of joy and happiness, with plenty of gifts and good things to eat for some. But when we think of those who will not have anything except what is given to them through charitable organizations, it should make us feel our responsibility more than ever at this time of year.

"The Salvation Army is endeavoring to make this a happy Christmas for as many as possible, but will only be able to do so by what you put in the Christmas kettles and give for Christmas baskets.

"Funds have been coming in very slowly this far, but we are not worried because the people of New Castle have always proved themselves to be generous. And, those who need baskets or know of any needy families should communicate with the Army at once."

Penn State Awards Letters To Gridmen

Twenty Members Of 1928 Squad Receive Varsity S At Dinner Meeting

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., December 12.—Twenty members of the Penn State football squad, who hung up a most peculiar record this season, being defeated five times, tying one game and winning three, were awarded their letters at the regular dinner of the Varsity club which took place Tuesday evening at Center Hills Country club.

Of the 20 men who got their S, three are seniors, seven are juniors, and nine are sophomores. Bernard Newman of Scranton, also received the varsity letter manager of the team. Jackson A. Martin of Sharon, was among those who received the award.

GARDNER

Rev. Charles Bell, D. D., a Presbyterian minister from Ellwood City, will preach next Sunday, at Gerdner Chapel, at 2:30 p. m.

Mrs. Davis, wife of the Nazarene pastor in New Castle, filled the pulpit very acceptably last Sunday. There was much favorable comment on the service. The male quartet from her church accompanied Mrs. Davis, and their singing was a very pleasing feature.

The smallest contribution to the fund for Gardner chapel, is as worthy of mention as the largest. Little Dollie Monroe, of Celia Stop, sent a silver dime, and this gift is much appreciated.

Mrs. Mary Miller of Basil, Ohio, is staying this week with her relatives at the Comstock home at Gardner.

Instead of the regular prayer meeting at the East New Castle Mission, tomorrow night, the members will go in a body to Savannah to assist in the revival services, which are being conducted by the pastor, Rev. Claude Downs, who has been assisted by Rev. Jesse Porter, pastor of a Christian church in New Castle. The choir from the First Baptist church in New Castle went to Savannah on Monday night. The meetings have been very well attended and outside interest is manifested.

Miss Selma Benson of Gardner, has accepted a position at Murphy's store in New Castle.

A great many of the children of the East New Castle school are out on account of illness.

Mrs. Charles Adams and her daughters, Phyllis and Averill, of Ellwood City, called on friends at Gardner, last Saturday after a day's shopping in New Castle.

Mrs. Harold Currie of Baldwin Stop, spent last Monday at Gardner the guest of her brother, Sergeant Percy, and Mrs. Knight.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Nelson, of Gardner, met with a sad accident last Monday evening near West Middlesex, another machine completely demolished their car. Mrs. Nelson was thrown out and her head injured. Mr. Nelson escaped injury.

Mr. and Mrs. Barkley and Mrs. Whitford, wife of the Free Methodist pastor in New Castle, spent last Sunday afternoon at Gardner with the family of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Robb.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Benson and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Johnson and daughter, Ruth, went last Sunday to the home of Mrs. Benson's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Phillips, of New Wilmington Junction.

David Walker of Wayne Stop, spent a few days at the home of his son, Charles and family at Gardner.

Mrs. Harlan of Gardner went to the home of her son, Charley, and wife in New Castle last Saturday.

Mrs. Moser of Butler, spent a few weeks at the home of her son, Albert Moser, of East New Castle, and accompanied by her son's wife came to Gardner to see her latest great granddaughter, Geraldine Louise Robb.

Weather Puts Stop To New Sidewalks

Police Search For Hair Pin Burglar

(International News Service)

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Dec. 13. — Although somewhat accustomed to strange occurrences, the natives of Cambridge were more than mildly interested when a hunt started for a "hairpin burglar."

The name comes from the fact that the burglar gained entrance to a home by picking a lock with a bent hairpin, found at the threshold. Two other robberies were effected by the same method, police said.

COMPLICATION OF AILMENTS YIELDS TO NEW KONJOLA

System In Sad Plight After Appendicitis Operation—Five Bottles Of New Medicine Score Triumph.

MR. ALEXANDER CITANSKI

Remarkable as it may seem, this new medicine, Konjola, seems at the very peak of its marvelous powers in those cases that have resisted and defied all treatments and medicines; in cases where hope of recovery has almost been abandoned after failure upon failure to find relief. Those who would have back their health; those who suffer and have sought help in vain, are daily calling at the Love and Megown Drug Store, 204 Washington street, this city, to find out for themselves about this master medicine. Konjola is not a medicine of promises, but of performances.

The experience of Mr. Alexander Citanski, 1818 Moravia street, is typical of the thousands of successes that Konjola has made. Mr. Citanski said:

"When I decided to give this new Konjola a trial I knew that this medicine was being put to a severe test, for my condition was a serious one. Following an operation for appendicitis I was left in a weakened condition, and easy prey for the ailments that followed. My stomach went back on me, and I suffered greatly from indigestion, gas and bloating pains. My food did not digest, and after every meal I endured hours of torture. This weakened me generally, and then my kidneys got out of order. My back ached terribly, and soon rheumatism set in, bringing pain to all parts of my body. I had tried simply everything, but did not get even temporary relief. In fact, I treated so long with this and that, that I had come to believe that there was nothing that would reach my case. Konjola was recommended, but I was skeptical. However, I read so much good news about this new preparation that I determined to give it a trial. The first three bottles had fine results, and two more rid me entirely of the indigestion, kidney ailment, the backache and the rheumatism. It was hard to believe that this happened within five weeks after starting the treatment. Today I have my former health, and am free from pain. I am going ahead with Konjola, for now it is acting as a tonic and strength-builder. If this recommendation will induce others to give Konjola a chance, I will be more than repaid for my special trip here to tell what this wonderful Konjola did for me."

Konjola is sold by LOVE AND MEGOWN, The Druggist, 204 East Washington street, this city.

Future Life Is Discussed

Evangelist Erickson Discusses Heaven At Tabernacle Wednesday

USES REVELATIONS AS SERMON BASIS

Message brought to the hundreds of people who attended the Wednesday evening service at Everybody's Tabernacle, South Mill street by the Evangelist C. H. Erickson was one dealing with the promise of things as they shall be in the future life, when we have finished with this world, if we have lived up to the commands of God.

The evangelist took as his text the first five verses of the 21st chapter of the Book of Revelations in which it is told of the new heaven that is awaiting those who believe in God.

They read: "And I saw a new heaven and a new earth for the first heaven and the first earth were passed away; and there was no more sea.

And I saw the Holy City, New Jerusalem, coming down from God out of heaven prepared as a bride adorned for her husband.

And I heard a great voice out of heaven saying "Behold the tabernacle of God is with men and he will dwell with them and be their God.

And God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes and there shall be no more death, neither sorrow nor crying, neither shall there be any more pain for the former things are passed away.

And he that sat upon the throne said, Behold I make all things new, and he said unto me, Write, for these words are true and faithful."

Evangelist Erickson with these verses as his text said among other things: "I want you to know that I believe this story of the city of heaven. It is the description of the heaven that we may expect, not just a mere story of something that might or might not be. For did not the Lord say "I am going away to prepare a place for you."

"There will be mansions there and it is a place that is many times larger than this earth. It is a real place. I take the Bible in this for what it means and what it says.

"And it is promised that God shall wipe away all tears, all sorrows, that death shall be no more, neither shall there be pain or anything of the old earth.

"Suppose that nobody in New Castle should get sick and there was no need of drug stores or physicians. Would not people from all the world come here. Such should be the appeal of heaven to us all.

"It says, Behold the tabernacle of God is with men. That means God is there, in this heaven and he himself will be the light of those who are there.

"It is God who makes heaven what it is. And it is for those who believe on him. There are those called infidels who are said not to believe in these things, but I really believe there are fewer of these infidels than many people believe.

"It is there that the true state of happiness awaits us who believe."

Following the sermon the appeal was given to those who desired to lead a Christian life and five persons advanced to the altar and were prayed with.

Those who sought relief from physical ills were then requested to come forward for annointing and prayer and the number of such persons with all types of afflictions who did so numbered 19.

Evangelist Erickson in making his announcements stated that the 12th week of the evangelistic services would come to a close Thursday evening and that in that time with the exception of but two nights there had not been an occasion on which there had not been a number of persons come forward to the altar.

The service last night was featured by a number of special selections by the Alliance Colored quintet. Appeal made by Evangelist Erickson for the balance of the weekly budget met with generous response, the entire amount needed for the week being pledged.

Thursday night will be observed as testimonial night when scores of people will have the opportunity of telling the benefits they have received through the services at the tabernacle.

Friday evening Evangelist Erickson will speak on the subject "Why Some People Miss Healing" dealing with the reasons that those who seek to be healed through prayer and annointing, fail to receive the desired benefits.

Saturday evening Evangelist and Mrs. Erickson will tell the story of their trip from California to the present time. There will be the usual interesting gospel and praise services Sunday afternoon and evening and Monday night Evangelist Erickson tells the story of his life.

Next Tuesday evening will witness the close of the wonderful evangelistic campaign conducted here for the past three months and the service that evening will be in charge of ministers and other workers who have assisted the Erickson party in making the services the success that they have been.

Motorists Should Be Careful During Shopping Season

Both Pedestrians And Drivers Should Use Caution, Says Gable

Care and caution on the part of the motorist and pedestrian on streets crowded with Christmas shoppers is urged in a statement issued today by the Pennsylvania Motor Federation.

All too frequently at this season, we read of deaths or injuries on crowded streets as the results of pedestrains being struck by motor cars, says S. Edward Gable, president of the Federation. In some instances, the driver of the car is to blame, in others the pedestrian, but no matter where the fault lies, it is a sad event when a gay holiday shopper is run down and killed or badly injured.

In Christmas shopping throngs with cars taxing the traffic facilities of the business centers and with pedestrian crowds at a record peak, danger lurks at every intersection, and, for that matter all along the streets where persons dart across in front of a line of moving cars. In traffic such as this, the man or woman at the wheel must be alert at all times, pedestrian as well as the careless driver.

To the average driver on the streets filled with Christmas shoppers, it seems that there are far too many pedestrians, Mr. Gable continues. And to the average person afoot, there seems to be far too many motor cars. But, from whatever point of view, the problem that arises is how to avert accidents, and in solving this, the person afoot can do much. If the pedestrian in crossing the street will watch his step and see that he does not suddenly step off the curb into the path of an approaching car there will be far fewer accidents and fewer sad hearts as the result of Christmas time motor accidents. We should protect not only ourselves, but also our fellow men.

Wonderful for Piles

Suffered For Years; Says There's Only One Remedy

John O'Leary, Buffalo, for 14 years Supervisor of the Second Ward, wants to pass the good word along.

"Take it from me," says Mr. O'Leary, "when you suffer torment with piles for many years as I did, and tried all kinds of remedies without any success, you'll be glad to say a good word for the only remedy that is any good."

"Peterson's Ointment rid me of piles so quickly that I was astonished. I felt somewhat peeved, however, to think that I had suffered so many years before knowing what a wonderful remedy Peterson's Ointment is. Let me thank you from the bottom of my heart."—John O'Leary.

Aerial Pictures To Show Landing Fields In State

Aeronautics Commission Will Make Survey Of Pennsylvania Terrain

PROPOSED ROUTE TO BE 40 MILES WIDE

Early Start To Locate Emergency Landing Fields Will Be Made

FUTURE LIFE IS DISCUSSED

HARRISBURG, Dec. 11.—The work to photographing certain sections of Pennsylvania from the air will start under the direction of the bureau of aeronautics, department of internal affairs, James F. Woodward, chairman of the state aeronautics commission, announced today. Major J. Sydney Owens, commander of the 103rd observation squadron of the Pennsylvania National Guard and a member of the commission, will have charge of the photographic program, and will have working with him Lieutenant George J. Bortle, inspector for the aeronautics commission. Details for the personnel of the party have been arranged by Major Owens.

The state aeronautics act passed by the last session of the legislature directs the secretary of the department of internal affairs to have made a survey of the state, with a view to mapping out an air route across the commonwealth and to locate intermediate landing fields for aviators who are forced down, either for lack of fuel or for other causes.

With a view to determining just where landings could be made, the plan of an aerial survey has been worked out by Major Owens. The survey, which, it is expected, will be under way within the next ten days, will start in the vicinity of Philadelphia and gradually extend, by way of Lancaster and Harrisburg, across the state. A radius of between 30 and 40 miles will be taken in by the survey, consequently the work will be slow.

Chairman Woodward, in explaining the purpose of the aerial survey, made it plain that the undertaking is for information of the state aeronautics commission, and that no authority has been vested in either the department of internal affairs or the commission to purchase or lease land for the establishment of state-owned fields.

Landscape Artist Known Here, Sues For False Arrest

F. T. Stafford Avers His Reputation Injured To Extent Of $10,000

BUTLER, Pa., Dec. 13.—F. T. Stafford, landscape artist who helped lay out golf courses in Slippery Rock, New Castle and Foxburg and a resident of Youngstown has brought action in the local court to recover $10.000 damages from the Butler Co. Motor company a corporation for an alleged false arrest.

In his statement of claim Mr. Stafford declares he has always been honest, a good and law abiding citizen and has never been guilty or until the time of committing of the several grievances charged by the defendant as afterward mentioned been suspected of having been guilty of false pretenses or of any other such crime and has always borne a good reputation.

The company he alleges maliciously injured his good name by causing his arrest and subsequent imprisonment in the Butler county jail from October 11 last to December 6, when a grand jury before whom his case was laid failed to find a true bill and ordered him discharged.

The charge of false pretense, he contends was preferred by A. F. Haberl, Jr., a member of the corporation and its duly authorized manager and agent and was brought, he alleges, without reasonable or probable cause.

Mr. Stafford alleges he has been greatly injured, his credit impaired, his name brought into disrepute among his friends and neighbors and has been obliged to pay out a considerable sum to defend himself against the charge recently brought.

Young Veteran Is Killed By Train

RIDGWAY, Pa., Dec. 13.—When he was hit by a southbound freight train on the Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburgh railroad at this place, John Luchs was instantly killed. It is believed that he was about to board the train when he lost his footing and fell under the wheels. His head was cut and there was a deep gash in his right side. He was about 35 years of age, a member of Ledden-Young Post, American Legion. He was in France during the World War and was gassed while at the front. He is survived by his wife and two children.

Saw Smuggler Is Now In Custody

(International News Service)

REV. A. J. RANDLES

Chairman Prayer Meetings Committee

Coming Visitation Evangelistic campaign to be conducted by the churches of this city is under the supervision of the Ministerial Association.

Several committees have been appointed and are functioning nicely. The community prayer meetings committee, one of the first to start activities is under the direction of Rev. A. J. Randles, chairman, Rev. Oscar Woods, and Rev. J. L. Petrie. Prayer services are being arranged for two evenings each week, Tuesday and Friday. The meetings on last Tuesday are reported as well attended and most profitable. People of all denominations are coming together in differtn parts of the city and are showing a genuine interest in this movement.

Health Officials Combat Diphtheria

Forty-Four Carriers Of Disease Have Been Quarantined By State

HARRISBURG, Dec. 13.—Thirteen hundred and sixty-four cultures have been made of convalescents and contacts by the two state nurses and the local school board in Shenandoah and vicinity as a result of the continued diphtheria situation. An examination by the state loboratory of the specimens thus obtained resulted in the discovery of 44 carriers. These have been placed under observational quarantine. More cultures are being taken.

Dr. F. E. Coughlin of the state health department who has returned from a survey of the situation in that locality reports that conditions are still serious.

In the last three months 275 cases have occurred in Shenandoah and West Mahanoy township. About three-fourths of the victims have been under the age of 10 years.

Million Drivers In State Fail To Secure License

Your 1928 automobile license plates are good until midnight of December 31, 1928. After that you must have 1929 license plates or take the consequences.

The words are those of Ben C. Eynon, regisrar of motor vehicles in Harrisburg. Mr. Eynon declares he is through pleading and threatening tardy motorists who have not applied for their new license plates. To date 1,000,000 have not applied for them and they are bound to be caught in a last minute jam that will hold many of the plates over the first of the year.

"From now on we will do all we can but motorists who have waited are simply betting with Fate against heavy odds. Highway patrolmen will not accept any excuse on January 1, 1929."

Since October 1 Mr. Eynon has been urging motorists to get their applications in. Some 400,000 have heeded the warning and as a result have their plates ready to put on. The rest of them will find themselves up against a charge by the highway patrolmen unless they get their plates before January 1, 1929.

Rev. Robert W. Moore Dies In New Mexico

Former Lawrence County Resident At Las Vegas, New Mexico, Passes On

Rev. Robert Walter Moore, aged 63, former resident of Lawrence county, died November 23 at Las Vegas, New Mexico, the scene of his last pastorate, according to word just received here. He was the son of the late Aaron Lyle Moore and Elizabeth (Summerville) Moore and was born in Athens county, O., April 18, 1865, the day that Abraham Lincoln was buried.

When he was a child the family returned to their former home near Pulaski, Pa., where he grew to manhood. After finishing the common school, he attended the State Normal school at Edinboro, Pa. Following this he taught for a few years in the country schools of Lawrence county, during which time he read law with his uncle, Colonel Robert B. McCombs of this city. From 1893 to 1898 he studied in Oberlin and Hiram colleges.

During his stay in Oberlin, O., he was struck by lightning. This was late in September, about 1895, just at the opening of the college year. He was badly burned, especially his feet, and as a result he spent several months in a Cleveland hospital. From this time on he was always lame and had to avoid much walking.

During the World war when there was an epidemic of the flu, he fell a victim to the disease from which he never fully recovered, although he continued to preach until within a few weeks of his death.

Aside from his work as a busy pastor, Rev. Moore had devoted considerable time to the Independent Order of Odd Fellows, and was well known to the order throughout the states wherein he had held pastorates. As he had spoken widely in the interests of the order, and had long been a member, not of the subordinate lodge alone, but of the Encampment and Rebekahs, as well, having held all the chairs of the order.

As he was unmarried and without family ties, and being a great lover of the mountains, he requested that his body should rest where he had lived and labored. His funeral was held in the First Christian church, Las Vegas, N. M., where his last pastorate was held, and burial made there.

The deceased leaves three sisters and one brother, namely: Miss Harriet Moore of Denver, Col.; Mrs. James VanMeter of Pulaski, Pa.; Mrs. Charles Boylan of Toledo, O., and Rev. Newton Moore of Wellington, O.

Husband On Trial, Alleged He Pushed Wife From Machine

(International News Service)

SOMERSET, Pa., Dec. 13.—Charged with the murder of his wife, whom he is alleged to have pushed from their automobile while the car was in motion, William R. Keller of Jerome is on trial here today.

The couple's four children were in the back seat of the automobile when Mrs. Keller was killed last October. Keller claims his wife fell from the car.

Township Is Sued For Big Damages

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Dec. 13.—Eleanor E. Thompson of Grindstone, who in 1926 was a 17-year-old schoolgirl, attending the Redstone township high school, today sued that township for $35,000 and filed a separate action against the directors of the township for the same amount, as a result of injuries received while riding in the township school bus. These injuries, she states, have impaired both her vision and her nervous system to the extent of 50 per cent of their normal state.

Arrest Suspects In Flour Thefts

SALEM, O., Dec. 13.—Two Salem men are in custody of Salem police pending an investigation of the robbery of a quantity of wheat and finished flour, estimated at $500 from the C. W. Coffee company it was revealed today by authorities. Both men were arrested after police had obtained clues to the place where the wheat and flour had been sold.

Fire Companies Answer 23 Alarms During November

Loss From Fire During Past Month Is Estimated At $2,315 By Chief

New Castle fire companies answered 23 alarms during the month of November, the report of the fire chief reveals. Of these, only three were false, which, considering the number of false alarms which were turned in during the summer months, is considered a fine average.

Fire damages during the month were slight. Building losses were put at $1,690, while damage to the contents of buildings were estimated at $625. The biggest losses occurred on November 26, when the Peoples Ice company and the restaurant of H. Engles at 714 South Mill street suffered a loss of $800. On the same day, the apartments of R. A. Hettenbaugh, located at 707 North Cedar street suffered a loss of $700.

Overheated furnaces and pipes caused the greatest number of fires, the report shows. The Central Fire Department, located on South Jefferson street, answered 11 alarms, the greatest number to be answered by any company in New Castle.

So far in December, while there have been 11 fires, the loss is extremely low, being covered with $50. Two of the alarms were false.

Women Shoppers Given Warning

Veteran Sleuth Says Old Fashioned "Stocking" Bank Best For Shoppers

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 13.—This is for ladies only.

Confidentially there is no substitute for the child fashioned stocking bank for women during these last minute Christmas shopping trips.

No less an authority than Detective Frank W. Boyd, veteran sleuth, is responsible for that tip. Boyd warns women shoppers to be especially cautious this season.

If you want to save the family bank roll—or what's left of it after these shopping trips, then:

Don't lay your purse on the counter.

Boyd suggests that shoppers carry only a small amount in a hand purse, and keep the rest—well, you know where.

Elks Committee Will Meet Sunday

Christmas Plans Will Be Completed; Needy To Be Given Relief

Sol Davis, general chairman of the Elks Christmas committee, stated today that the committee would convene Sunday between 10 a. m. and 4 p. m. at the Elks club to arrange for Christmas necessities to unfortunate families in New Castle.

He said that names would be taken of people in need of coal. One hundred tons will be given to needy families by Fred L. Rentz through the Elks. Rentz presented the Elks, of which he is a member with $500.00, to carry on the work.

The names of worthy persons, in need of foodstuffs also will be taken as will the names of children who are in need of shoes, underwear and other needed clothing. The requests will be investigated by the Elks committee.

Baskets of food, containing substantial edibles also will be sent to homes.

Elect Eight New Sorority Members

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Dec. 13.—Psi Nu, honorary journalistic sorority, announced yesterday the election of eight new members. The co-eds thus honored, all members of the yearbook or the newspaper staff, were: Katherine Boobyer, Pittsburgh; Margaret Brickley, Cresson; Jane Macrum, Oakmont; Eleanor Graham, Pittsburgh; Ruth Lewis, New Castle; Catherine McClure, Blairsville; Cora Williams, Cresson; Margaret Reed, Butler.

The sorority is to honor co-eds with two years of outstanding service on the staff of one or more of the campus publications. Initiation of the eight new members will take place early in January, immediately following the Christmas recess, according to President Phyllis Coley.

Twenty-Nine Billion In American Pockets For Christmas Buying

Thrift And Economy Shown In All Sections Of United States, Figures Released

Per Capita Savings In 1928 Shown To Be $215; Bank Deposits High

By ROBERT S. THORNBURGH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13.—Thrift was America's watchword in 1928.

Despite Uncle Sam's reputation as the greatest spender in the world, the country had approximately $29,000,000,000 in savings accounts ready to fight the annual Christmas shopping battle.

The per capita savings were $215. All individual bank deposits amounted to about $54,000,000,000.

Figures made public today by Comptroller of the Currency J. W. Pole showed that the people of New England practice what President Coolidge, from the rock-ribbed state of Vermont, has taught during his two terms as chief executive—thrift and economy.

In New England the per capita savings accounts amounted to $569, as compared to $431 for the wealthy eastern states. Massachusetts led the nation in per capita savings with $628, slightly ahead of New York's $610. After New England and New York came California with $415.

Many Savings Accounts.

In the eastern group individuals had $11,877,000,000 in savings accounts, led by New York with $7,112,100,000. Pennsylvania had over two billion and New Jersey over one billion.

Savings accounts in New England were $4,638,000,000 about half of which was accounted for by Massachusetts.

The midwestern states had $6,540,000,000 in savings, with Ohio, Illinois, and Michigan over a billion each. Pacific coast states had $2,337,000,000, with California nearly $2,000,000,000; the Southern states $1,905,000,000 and Western states mountain $754,000,000. Per capita savings in the south were $59; the western states $80; the Pacific $276; and the midwest $193.

In national banks alone were deposited $7,291,600,000 in savings by 16,188,541 individuals. Of this total $4,810,500,000 was held in country banks and the remainder in banks of the reserve cities.

For savings in national banks San Francisco was far out in front, with 937,152 depositors having $415,237,000. New York city reported 666,082 depositors with $251,653,000. Los Angeles Savings accounts in national banks exceeded New York with $267,217,000, but the number of depositors was about 244,000 smaller.

World War Veteran Will Be Buried Here On Saturday

Canadian Dies In Hospital Here After Being Taken Ill While Working Here

Funeral services for the late George Vincent McCormick of this city, who died in the Shenango Valley hospital from complications on Wednesday will be held from the St. Mary's Catholic church here on Saturday morning December 15. Interment will be made in St. Mary's cemetery.

Mr. McCormick, whose family home is in St. John, New Brunswick, had been rooming here for the past few months at 432 Oak street. Since the close of the war he has been employed as an auto mechanic.

He seemed to claim New Castle as his residence. During the World War the deceased was a private in Battery F, 59th field artillery.

It is not definitely known just when Mr. McCormick came to the city but it is thought that it was but a short time ago. He was 34 years of age, married and the father of one child. Mrs. McCormick is now confined to a sanitarium in Canada while the child lives with the deceased's parents Mr. and Mrs. Geo. H. McCormick at 304 Douglas avenue, St. John, New Brunswick.

Mr. McCormick was admitted to the Shenango Valley hospital in an emergency case on November 23 and operated upon that same night. Since that time his condition has been unfavorable but it was not until a day or so ago that it turned for the worse.

Much difficulty was experienced in locating the relatives of the man. However the local chapter of the American Red Cross took over the case and through the veterans bureau in Washington finally located his parents. The man has no relatives here and in a long distance telephone message to this city last night the father stated that it would be impossible for him to come here and requested that burial be made in this city.

Jennings Ranked Municipal's Best In Tennis Playing

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 13.—George Jennings Jr., agile Chicago southpaw, succeeds Ted Drewes of St. Louis as the ranking star of the country's municipal tennis players, according to a list given out from the headquarters of the National Public Parks Tennis Association here today.

Drewes had won the tournament four years in succession before being ousted by Jennings in the semi-finals of the national tournament at Cleveland last summer.

Ralph Rice and George Jennings Jr., both of Chicago, top the list of the first 10 doubles rankings.

M. J. DONNELLY MAKES RECORD

M. J. Donnelly local representative of the Edward A. Woods Company agency of the Equitable Life Assurance society has again placed himself in the lead among the agency writers of insurance. In the first seven months of this year he is first in the amount of insurance written, he having written a total of $1,320,967. He stands second in the amount of deposits with $49,782. He also takes first position in the number of lives on which the insurance is written, which in his case numbers 171. This is 50 more than his nearest contender for the first honors.

"One-Eyed" Connolly Is Under Arrest In New York, Protests

Disorderly Conduct Charge Made Against Famous Gate Crasher In New York

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Dec. 13.— "One-eyed" Connolly, gate crasher extraordinary, crashed a new one today against his will.

It was a police station. After his arrest on one of the busiest downtown corners on a charge of disorderly conduct, and blocking traffic.

"Of gates I've crashed you've all heard tell.

"I'll crash St. Peter and then crash hell."

Underneath was the name of a racing publication for which Connolly was playing sandwich man.

"This is the first time I've been arrested," he said sadly. "It will ruin my career."

He insisted his first name was "One-eyed," but when police scoffed at that he said wearily, "well, call me John then."

He gave his age as 52, and his occupation as advertising agent.

Schools Are Not Likely To Close

About 2,200 Pupils Are Again Absent From School Today Says Dr. Green

CLOSING RUMORS BRANDED AS FALSE

With conditions in the public schools of New Castle remaining practically the same, it is not likely that the schools will be closed on account of the sickness of pupils, states Dr. C. C. Green, superintendent of schools. Today there are about the same number absent from the schools as there were Wednesday.

Dr. Green again branded all rumors to the effect that the schools would be closed as false. Every possible precaution is being taken so that more children will not be stricken. Dr. Mary J. Baker, director of health, and her staff are checking every school, and at the first sign of a cold, the pupils are being sent home.

The school authorities, it is stated, are not waiting until the grippe or flu is noticable, but at the first sign of a cold or temperature, the children are being sent to their homes.

Wednesday about 2,200 children were absent from school. Some, no doubt, have the flu or severe colds, but it is believed that the number of flu cases is extremely slight. About the same number of children are absent today.

B. K. Thacker, principal of the George Washington Junior high school declared that if the schools remained open until the Christmas vacation there is no doubt in his mind that when the youngsters return after the holidays there will be no sign of an abnormal amount of sickness in the schools.

"One gratifying fact about it all is that at the present time there seems to be no increase in the number of pupils out of school," concluded Dr. Green, "and that, as always, is a good sign."

Golfers of New York are losing about 200,000 balls each week.

Public Health Officials Act In "Flu" Spread

"GERM" ISOLATION BAFFLES SCIENCE

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13.—Nationwide and concerted efforts to check the epidemic of influenza now sweeping eastward across the country were considered today at a special meeting of officials of the United States Public Health Service.

The service is flooded with thousands of inquiries from state officials and physicians concerning preventative and curative remedies.

Although the epidemic admittedly is serious and widespread, officials took a somewhat optimistic view of the situation because of the lack of virulence that accompanies the present sweep of the disease.

Germ Is Puzzler

A more intensive search for the isolation of the 'flu germ is expected to result from the epidemic. Scientists, although they have labored for ten years, have never succeeded isolating the germ. Like the cause of cancer it ramains one of the mysteries of medical research.

The epidemic has been most severe in the west and southwest, but that it is travelling in a regular wave eastward already has been established to the satisfaction of Federal health officers. There is a bend to the wave to the southward, and it is expected that another curve will be apparent in a few weeks. The epidemic is expected to strike the east in January or early in February.

Dr. M. Nichol, head of the New York Public Health Service, notified the Federal Service today that the wave has not yet been felt in New York. He indicated the New York Service already is taking steps to combat the disease when it strikes the state.

A supplemental report on the situation in Tennessee, issued today, stated that there were 243 new cases reported in the state for the week ending Dec. 8.

husband. Both companies refused payment of the policies, contending that no evidence existed that Howe was the occupant of the car destroyed.

Counsel for the plaintiff, however, produced in both cases a watch, chain, Masonic charm, bearing the name of Willard Howe, dental bridgework, and a ring of key, all found in the ashes beneath the machine. Mrs. Howe produced duplicate keys for those on the ring.

The body was charred beyond recognition.

Booze Racketeer Shot Four Times

CHICAGO, Dec. 13.—Charles Fox 27 of Kansas City who said he was in the alcohol "racket" between Chicago and Kansas City was shot four times and left for dead on the sidewalk here today.

Fox, rushed to a hospital cot told detectives he was shot by three men one a causal acquaintance who "took him for a ride."

Over 120 Lawrence County Farmers Pool Wool During Season

Wool growing on Lawrence county farms is increasing rapidly, according to the figure shown on the yearly report of the Lawrence County Agricultural Extension Association, under the direction of Harold McCulloch, county agent. The animal husbandry project of the extension was greatest in its reach in the wool pool for the county.

In Lawrence, Mercer and Butler counties 194 men pooled their wool. Of this number 122 wool growers were from this county. These men pooled their wool and the total quantity amounted to 55,170 pounds. Delaine received the highest price, it being 43 cents per pound.

The Wool Growers Association sponsored the fourth annual wool show for the county, the agent's report shows, and premiums were paid to the various winning classes. They also participated in the Pennsylvania state products show, which took place at Harrisburg, and conducted a pure-bred ram sale for the fifth consecutive year.

Three meetings were also held during the year to discuss sheep raising and especially the control of parasites in sheep. Oe farm demonstration also took place, showing how to drench sheep for internal parasites, and the results have showed that many local wool growers are now using this means to improve their flocks.

Wool growing, apparently dormant for a number of years in the county, has now taken its place with the leading farm products here.

Motor Club Membership Drive Winners Receive Gold Emblem Awards

Awards which were to be given to the members of the New Castle Motor club members who obtained ten or more members in the membership drive last July have arrived, states Bernard Hanlon, manager of the club and those winners may get theirs by calling at the Motor club office in The Castleton building.

Ralph Bolsinger winner of the contest will receive a rolled gold radiator emblem with the letters "A. A. A." and "New Castle Motor Club" inscribed on these letters.

Other members will receive similar plates which are gold plated and bearing the same design and lettering.

In the membership campaign which took place this past July Ralph Bolsinger obtained the greatest number of members. Among the other winners, close runners up in the campaign were J. K. Love, F. L. Rentz, S. R. Huey, A. H. Gonick, W. J. Connery, Henry Artz and F. S. Hoyt.

Bridge Should Be Shunned By Married Couples, Says Chicago Judge During Divorce Hearing

CHICAGO, Dec. 13.—Bridge is for single persons and should be left alone by married couples, Judge William N. Gemmill announced just after he had heard testimony that Gerald C. Wood, insurance broker and graduate of Dartmouth university, had been cruel to his wife because she had made misplays when playing bridge with him.

Mrs. Wood, daughter of Wilbur M. Kelso, president of the Green Oil Soap company, testified that they were married June 23, 1927.

"On December 29," she said under questioning of her attorney, Robert E. Cantwell, Jr., yesterday, "we were playing at the home of my cousin. I doubled a four diamond bid and the opponent took his ten tricks. Mr. Wood, because my double cost us a game, flew into a rage and struck me.

"On February 26, when we again found ourselves partners in a progressive game, I trumped his original ace lead."

"How did that happen?" asked the judge.

"You can trump an ace," interjected Cantwell, "if it gives you a chance for a double ruffle."

"Mr. Wood didn't wait to see why I had made the play, but stood up and struck me," Mrs. Wood resumed. "As a matter of fact, it was really a fumble on my part.

"After this incident we separated for a time and made up with a solemn pledge never to play together again. We were happy until August 19. We were at the home of friends and they brought out the bridge table. Mr. Wood doubled a one no-trump bid and I, disgusted with a bust hand, forgot to take him out of it. Again he hit me and we have been separated ever since."

"More married couples should hear your story," Judge Gemmill said when Mrs. Wood finished. "If husbands and wives didn't play partners in bridge maybe there would be fewer failures in matrimonial partnerships. I'm hearing too much lately about spouses who failed to recognize an indicative bid."

Aviation Can Prevent War Is Persians Plea

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13.—One of the greatest problems that has arisen in international aviation is the principle of air sovereignty and it should be crystallized into international law immediately, Prince M. Firouz, Persian delegates, told the International Air Conference here today.

The Persian cited the case of his own country as an example. Persia, he said, was "a buffer state" between Europe and Asia, and as a preventative of war should be in a position to acclaim and enforce air sovereignty over Persian territory.

"Aviation can be a curse," he said, "but under proper conventions, riveted into international law, it can be made a great blessing for the prevention of war."

Arturo J. Piazola, Cuban delegate, also addressed the morning session of the conference, dwelling upon the ideal georgraphic situation of his country as a connecting link for air traffic between the North and South American continents.

Seven Postmen Now Off Duty

One additional letter carrier was absent when work resumed at the New Castle post office this morning. Seven carriers in all are now confined to their homes because of illness.

George S. Barrett of 318 North Shenango street is the latest addition to the carriers' sick list. Others off duty are Victor Magee, Walter Hindman, Jess Wilson, Thomas Davis, Roy Grafton and Walter Leslie.

Authorities state there are no other absentees among the clerks or in other departments because of sickness.

Family Yet Hopes To Locate Hunter

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., Dec. 13.—Although state police declared it was their opinion Hilary Wilburn, missing Ohio Pyle farmer, had deserted his family instead of being the victim of a bear hunt, his friends and relatives refused to believe that theory and today a party of 120 citizens of Stewart township tramped the hillsides, hoping to find a trace of him or his body.

The man left home Friday, to get a bear he had seen on the farm and never returned. His wife and daughter have become frantic over his continued absence.

Lutherans Enjoy Talk By Thiel Head At Banquet

Rev. E. Clyde Xander Of Thiel College Gives One Of His Entertaining Addresses

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 13.— One hundred and twenty-five fathers and sons of the Trinity Lutheran church enjoyed the annual fathers and sons banquet in the dining room Wednesday evening.

The tables were decorated in seasonal colors, and the main color scheme was food and plenty of it, served by the ladies of the church. Printed menues were found at each guest's place, announcing the program of the evening.

The speaker, Rev. E. Clyde Xander of Thiel college needs no introduction to local audiences. With his pleasing personality and ever-ready flow of witty stories, interspersed with home truths, he is an ever-welcome speaker. His theme "The Responsibility of a Father" was well developed and contained many good thoughts as well as humorous passages.

Rev. George Ulrich, a former resident, also gave a splendid talk on the relations of fathers and son and Prof. George Herrold of the local teaching staff gave a short talk on "The Present Day Boy and his Needs". Rev. H. Shepper of Beaver Falls also gave a fine talk.

George W. Blank acted as Master of ceremonies, introducing the various items on the program, pep singing etc. A. J. Dambach pronounced the invocation and the entire program provided a most entertaining and educational evening from the invocation to the final hymn "God Be With You 'Till We Meet Again'".

Mrs. Hockenberry Entertains Club

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 13.—Members of the Castlewood club enjoyed Wednesday evening as the guests of Mrs. Gladys Hockenberry of Orchard avenue. The party assembled at 1 o'clock for a tureen luncheon and covers were laid for 17.

The attendance hours were spent in a business meeting and it was voted to donate $10 to the week day religious education fund and to take some clothing to a needy family.

The next meeting will take place at the home of Mrs. Levada Koach at 300 First avenue, January 9.

Mrs. McLaughlin Is M. L. Club Hostess

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 13.—Mrs. J. J. McLaughlin of Wayne avenue entertained the members of the M. L. club Wednesday evening at her home. Three tables of bridge were in play, and high score honors were won by Mrs. Stinson and Mrs. Harris.

In two weeks the club members will enjoy a Christmas party as the guests of Mrs. Stinson and Mrs. Richards at the Stinson home in the Pittsburgh Circle.

County Officials Desire To Know If Citizens Want Notices Of Tax

If the tax payers of Lawrence county can't be notified of their tax indebtedness to the county treasurer in the future the time to say so is NOW.

County Treasurer Adda C. Smiley is ready and willing to install the system, the county commissioners have often times expressed a desire to cooperate in the matter if the people desire it and the time has now come for the people themselves to say so in such numbers that the two offices mentioned above will know that it is wanted.

System Needed.

For many years the tax payers have complained that they were notified of their taxes due the city by cards from the city treasurer, but that in order to know what their county taxes were they had to go to the county treasurer's office and get a statement. Often times this was inconvenient.

Shortly after the first of the year the arrangements for the collection of taxes will begin and unless some move is made in the immediate future to get the card system installed the same old system will be in vogue for another year.

Complaints uttered to the world at large have no effect in a matter of this kind, the authorities charged with the collection of taxes should be informed. They are willing at all times to so adjust their offices that the people will be served more efficiently but they do have a right to know if the people want a change made.

Other Counties Have It.

Other counties long ago discarded the system used in Lawrence county. In Beaver county a tax payer is notified by mail what he owes to the county and he can send a check or go in and pay it. The point is he does not have to make two trips, nor does he have to make a trip at all if he wishes to send a check through the mail.

An example of the inefficiency of the present system is seen in a case in point. A citizen owns a home in New Castle, a farm in Shenango township, a few lots in South New Castle borough and a strip of land in Washington township.

He goes to the county treasurer's office perhaps at a busy time and through an unintentional error gets a bill for only part of his taxes. Either he has to make another trip to the court house or he does not know until the delinquent collector goes after him.

Another case in point is a mill man or a farmer who cannot afford the time in the day time to go to the court house to find out what he owes. Either he has to take valuable time or else the delinquent collector gets a fee for the collection of addition to the face of the tax.

Favors System.

Miss Smiley favors the notification by card. She believes that every tax payer is entitled to be notified by mail of his indebtedness in taxes and is willing to install the system if it appears that the system is wanted.

However Miss Smiley is entitled to know whether the people of this county want such a system and the only way she will know is by being told.

If you want to know what your taxes are, without having to go to the court house let her know or let the county commissioners know, a card will do it or a personal call at the office in the court house.

If you want the newer, more efficient system installed SAY SO. AND DO IT NOW.

Former Boxing Champ Receives Heavy Fine

Frank Klaus Of Braddock, To Serve Two Months For Liquor Law Violation

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Dec. 13—Frank Klaus, Braddock saloonkeeper and former middleweight boxing champion of the world, was sentenced to serve two months in the county jail and fined $200 by Federal Judge F. P. Schoonmaker Wednesday for violation of the prohibition law.

Klaus pleaded guilty to selling whiskey in his saloon in Braddock and having in his possesion whiskey wine and beer. His place was raided last May 19.

Klaus was one of 19 who pleaded guilty to breaking the booze laws and one of four who were given similar sentences. Judge F. P. Schoonmaker ruled that the sentences should not be started until January 1.

Motorists Report Accidents To Police

Several Cars Are Damaged In Collisions On Streets Of City

T. F. Kennedy of 226 Elm street, reported to the police Wednesday that he had his car parked on Mahoning avenue near the Hobart street intersection. There was a street car enroute east and also an automobile, the license number of which he failed to secure. The driver of this machine attempted to pass between the Kennedy car and the street car and was caught between them. The street car had to back up and as it did so this automobile hit the Kennedy machine with such force as to shove it up over the sidewalk, damaging it to a considerable extent.

Orlando Guilian of 516½ Pearson street, reported Wednesday that he was going east on East Long avenue above Hamilton street and trying to park his machine ahead of another machine parked at the curb, when a machine following his, the license number of which he did not secure, hit and damaged his car.

John Schobel, 716 East Reynolds street, reported Wednesday that he was driving his car north on South Mill street at Taylor street, when the car of Carl Carney, 103 Division St., enroute south on Mill street, made a left hand turn onto Taylor street, cutting in, in front of his car, and causing the machines to come together. The Schobel car was badly damaged. Mr. Carney in making his report states that the Schobel car showed no headlights and he was unable to see it coming.

Foreign Born Eager To Gain Education

Russians Head List Of Those Who Seek Further Education

HARRISBURG, Dec. 13.—Statistics compiled by the Department of Public Instruction show some interesting facts concerning the recent Pre-Professional examinations. One hundred fifty-five candidates were of foreign birth and twenty-two different countries were represented. In addition to the large number born in the British Isles, and Continental European countries, there were representatives from Africa, Albania, Central America, Panama, Czecho Slovakia, Sweden and Greece. Countries having the largest representation of native born in these examinations were Russia, England, France, Germany, Italy, Canada, Poland, Ireland. Eighty-five of the foreign born entrants came from Russia.

The examinations were given so that candidates may complete high school requirements for admission to colleges and professional schools.

Best Remedy for Obstinate Cough Made at Home

You'll never know how quickly a stubborn cough or chest cold can be conquered, until you try this famous recipe. It is used in millions of homes, because it gives more prompt, positive relief than anything else. It's no trouble at all to mix and costs but a trifle.

Into a pint bottle, pour 2½ ounces of Pinex; then add plain granulated sugar syrup or strained honey to make a full pint. This saves two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough medicine, and gives you a purer, better remedy. It never spoils, and tastes good—children like it.

You can actually feel its penetrating, soothing action on the inflamed throat membranes. It also promptly loosens the germ-laden phlegm, and at the same time, it is absorbed into the blood, where it acts directly on the bronchial tubes. This three-fold action explains why it brings such quick relief even in severe bronchial coughs and "flu" coughs.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine, containing the active agent of creosote, in a refined, palatable form, and known as one of the greatest healing agents for severe coughs, chest colds and bronchial troubles.

Over 23,000 Aliens Become Naturalized

Federal Courts Grant Many Certificates To Aliens Of Pennsylvania

(Special To The News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 13.—A total of 23,854 resident aliens of Pennsylvania became naturalized citizens of the United States during the fiscal year ended June 30 the annual report of the commissioner of naturalization reveals. Of these aliens naturalized 16,314 were granted certificates of naturalization by federal courts and 7,540 were given certificates by the courts of the state.

Double Fines For Violations The Second Time

Decision Of Official And Unofficial Bodies Of Traffic Commission

TRAFFIC BODIES MEET WEDNESDAY

Fines for traffic ordinance violations in the city may be increased the second and third offense in the future.

This was the decision by vote of the official and unofficial members of the traffic commission which met Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the office of Mayor W. H. Gillespie.

All of the members of both bodies agreed that the fines should be increased after more than one violation and the body voted to recommend that the fines be made higher following the one offense. A record of offenses would be kept.

The amount of the fine was discussed, states Ray Hall, secretary of the commission, and the final decision was to leave that matter in the hands of the police court.

It was also stated at the meeting of the commission that the traffic light situated at the junction of Liberty street and Madison avenue has undergone a time change. The new time for the light now being 30 and 20 seconds. Liberty street having the longest time period. This was done following the recommendation of the commission some time ago.

The stop sign and through street committees which are chairmaned by James W. Cole, Ralph Bolsinger did not report as both of the chairmen were absent from the meeting.

Local Men Go To Regional Meeting

New Castle Members Of Allegheny Advisory Board At Pittsburgh Meeting

The delegation of New Castle members of the Allegheny Regional Advisory Board left this morning for Pittsburgh where they are attending the second annual and eighth regular meeting of the board which istaking place in the William Penn hotel.

Following an extensive speaking program by industrial leaders, the reports of various committees were heard. This afternoon, the election of the officers who will serve on the board for the coming year will occur.

There are some 35 local members on the advisory board and it is thought that a good representation will be present from this city at one or both of the sessions.

The Board will also probably confirm the statement concerning the fact that New Castle will be the meeting place for the June meeting. At the September meeting held in Cumberland, Md., the board stated that they would come to this city for that meeting.

Probe Finding Of Charred Bones In Ruins Of Fire

(International News Service)

LANCASTER, Pa., Dec. 13.—With the finding of charred bones in the ruins of a farm house near New Texas, Lancaster county, that was destroyed by fire yesterday, police today were attempting to determine whether the three persons who lost their lives had been murdered prior to the fire.

In the basement of the house police found a small arsenal of rifles and revolvers in addition to a number of barrels. This led to the belief that William Neff, 21; Maude Morris, 23, his housekeeper, and her three-year-old son had been slain and the house set ablaze in an effort to hide the crime.

Bullet holes were discovered in one of the walls that was left standing, adding to the general belief that a bootleg feud may have been the cause of the three persons being killed. Fred L. Gauffman, deputy coroner, announced he would hold an inquest today.

Ellwood Youth Held For Court On Serious Charge

BEAVER FALLS, Pa., Dec. 13.—Two young men from Ellwood arrested Sunday morning by New Brighton police, and who were reported in company with a 15-year-old New Brighton girl, were arraigned before Justice of the Feace Walter Lewis on informations made by Probation Officer Cora Blackledge. Nicolas Flower was charged with assault and battery with intent to rape and after testimony was offered was held for court in the sum of $2,000 bail, which was furnished.

Apgelo Maggi, charged with assault and battery, was fined $25 and costs on this charge and on the disorderly conduct charge was fined $10 and costs.

The girl in the case was in charge of county probation authorities during the investigation. Local police made no charge against her.

The case is reported to be of an unprintable nature.

The Story Of The Boxer Rebellion
Boxer Riots In Peking

ON THE NIGHT OF JUNE 13, 1900, A HORDE OF BOXERS SWEPT THROUGH THE "TATAR CITY" (INNER CITY) OF PEKING, LOOTING AND BURNING FOREIGN BUSINESS HOUSES, RESIDENCES, CHRISTIAN CHURCHES AND MISSIONS, AND BUTCHERING HUNDREDS OF NATIVE CHRISTIANS ON THE 10TH, PRINCE TUAN, LEADER OF THE BOXERS, HAD BEEN PLACED AT THE HEAD OF THE FOREIGN OFFICE.

JUNE 19, THE FOREIGN MINISTERS IN PEKING WERE ORDERED TO LEAVE THE CITY WITHIN 24 HOURS, BUT THEY DARED NOT TRUST THEMSELVES TO THE MERCY OF THE ANGRY MOBS OF BOXERS THAT HELD ALL THE ROADS TO THE COAST.

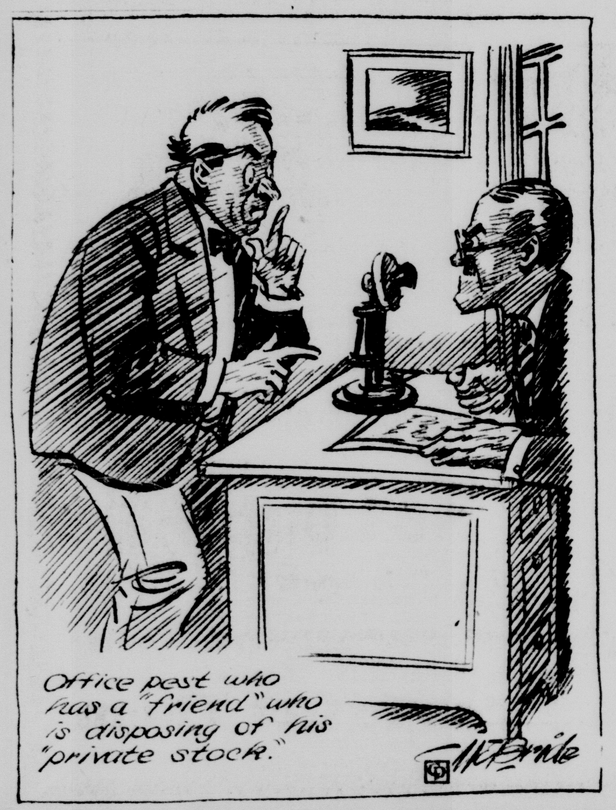

THE BOXERS FOLLOWED THIS OUTRAGE WITH A FIERCE CLAMOR FOR THE BLOOD OF ALL THE FOREIGNERS IN PEKING. FOREIGNERS OF ALL NATIONS, WITH A FEW CHRISTIAN CHINESE, FLED TO THE BRITISH LEGATION, WHERE HURRIED PREPARATIONS TO MEET THE IMPENDING ATTACK WERE MADE.

TOMORROW—THE ATTACK ON THE LEGATIONS.

Thirty Scouts Will Attend Winter Camp

"Parents who are afraid to permit their boys to attend the winter Boy Scout camp which takes place December 26, 27, 28, 29 and 30, on account of exposure to the cold, have not cause to worry," states J. Lee Calahan, chief scout executive of Lawrence county.

The boys are housed in a well heated and ventilated building, good beds are furnished and a competent chef cooks the meals. It is as comfortable as life around the home.

This year's camp will find some 30 young boys from the county in attendance. All will be scouts and a program of activities will take place every day and every evening.

During the day, the scouts will learn how to track and will also make molds of the various animal tracks in order to make a more exact study of their nature; they will learn how to tell trees by the texture of the bark in place of identifying them by the leaves; and among other things, they will be taught leather work and handicraft by a special expert in those lines who will be at the camp.

Every sort of winter sport will be on the program. Each day will find some sort of educational hike in progress and in the evenings the program will be continued around the open fireplace in the huge cabin.

The entire week will be one of educational sport and fun. There are a few more berths left in the enrollment, states Mr. Calahan, and any scout wishing to attend camp should report to scout headquarters at the Greer building at once. Some 25 scouts have already signed to attend.

Needs Large To Supply Holiday Needs In State

Almost 1,500,000 Trees Will Be Needed To Supply Pennsylvania Homes

HARRISBURG, Dec. 13. — The number of Christmas trees used in Pennsylvania during the coming Yuletide season, indicated by the experience of recent years, will be upwards of 1,500,000, according to an estimate today by State Forester Joseph S. Illick.

Ordinarily less than one-third of the Christmas tree requirements each year in Pennsylvania are cut from the forests of the state. The imported trees are received from the Lake states, New England, and chiefly from Canada. Seven to eight hundred carloads of trees are imported during the holiday season and during the last few years some of them came from as far west as Washington. One boatload of 45,000 Douglas Fir trees was received last year from Nova Scotia. Most of the imported trees are white and red spruce and balsam fir from the dense forest of the North Woods, while the trees cut in Pennsylvania are chiefly white pine and hemlock, with lesser quantities of Jersey pine and red cedar, besides a limited number of Norway spruce and pine being grown in plantations.

Parents Warned On Measles Outbreaks

Disease Should Not Be Treated Lightly, Says Dr. J. M. Campbell

HARRISBURG, Dec. 13.—Several outbreaks of measles have occurred in various sections of the commonwealth, according to a report submitted to the secretary of health by Dr. J. Moore Campbell, director of the bureau of communicable diseases. A warning has again been announced regarding this malady. "Too many parents consider this disease lightly. On the contrary, its effects, both during the attack and afterwards, may be very serious." Parents are urged to respect the quarantine and to keep themselves and their children from houses so marked.

Monthly Report Of Neighborhood House

Splendid Interest In The Various Classes; Plans Made For Christmas Parties

The executive committee of the Americanization society of New Castle met Teusday afternoon in the Neighborhood House, Sciota street, with the president, Mrs. Thomas W. Phillips, presiding.

Reports for the month of November were given by Miss Mollie Davis, treasurer, and Mrs. Earl Ramsey, financial secretary. Miss Christine Butler, welfare worker of the Neighborhood House, gave here report also.

Miss Butler told of making 54 calls to various homes during the month. There were 559 books exchanged in the library. The Sunday school of the First Methodist church gave 110 used books to the society.

The new classes were begun in November, the embroidery circle and the beginners class. Mrs. Lou Marshall and Mrs. Eleanor Lewis donate the material for the girls and stamp it. The beginners class numbers 40 and is in charge of Mrs. W. C. Stewart and Mrs. Calvin Smith, assisted by Miss Butler.

The English class taught by Miss Anne Aiken has an enrollment of 16 and the Woman's Bible class taught by Mrs. Balph has a membership of seven.

There are four boys' clubs that meet every Friday evening with William Thomas of the Y. M. C. A. in charge. The Sunday school attendance numbers about 90 each Sunday.

Plans are being made for a number of Christmas parties at the Neighborhood House during Christmas week.

Eaches Is Out For Speaker

Reading Man Is Candidate For Head Of General Assembly

WEST MAY PRESS CLAIMS FOR POST

(Special To The News)

HARRISBURG, Pa., Dec. 13.—Following the rumor of some weeks ago that Paris A. Eaches of Reading was receptive to the speakership of the session of 1929, Pennsylvania general assembly, comes a formal announcement from him to the effect that he is a candidate. The announcement has gone out to every member of the house of representatives.

In his announcement Mr. Eaches calls attention to the fact that he will be serving his fifth term as a member, and that he has been elected as a Republican from a district that has been preponderantly Democratic. Also the fact that Berks county went Republican this time for the first time in many years, carrying with it a full delegation of Republicans to the house.

No Reaction Yet.

Little reaction to his candidacy has been heard as yet, but there will probably be some following the meeting of the leaders in York on Pennsylvania Day. What the leaders of the western end of the state have in mind is not known, although in the last session it was indicated that they expected the speakership to come west this time. Philadelphia had it for the two previous sessions and under the custom of the house, the west is in line for it.

Should the west press its claims, two men seem to be possible candidates, James McClure of Allegheny county and Alex R. Wheeler of Forest county. Both are young men, both are capable, and both have the respect of their fellow members.

There are other positions to be filled again this time that may be given some attention by the Republican leaders. Eugene White, chief clerk of the house is a candidate for reelection as is Milton K. Burgner, resident clerk, and James N. Moore, director of the legislative reference bureau.

House to Caucus.

The house will caucus on New Year's eve, December 31, 1928, and the Republicans will select their candidate for speaker. This selection is tantamount to election as the Democrats will have but 15 votes as against 193 Republicans. The house will convene at 9 o'clock New Year's day, at which time the formality of electing a speaker will be gone through and the house organized. There will probably be a recess of two weeks following in order to give the state committee a chance to meet and make its appointments, and also to give the speaker time to make his committee appointments.

In the senate there will be no necessity of electing a president protem as this was done before the close of the session of 1927. State Senator Horace Schantz of Lehigh county was chosen, and this fact may militate against the chances of Paris A. Eaches as a candidate for the speakership of the house, Lehigh and Berks counties being close together.

Glass Will Start Training Again For Distance Swimming

Cortelyou Class, Local Long Distance Swimmer, Will Resume Training

Cortelyou Glass, New Castle swimmer and postal employe, plans to begin training again as soon as the Christmas rush is over. Glass is a driver of one of the local parcel post trucks. He has not trained since the Wrigley marathon swim which occurred last fall and in which he was entered.

In his statement made today, Glass states that he intended to start intensive indoor training immediately in the Y pool in order to get himself into good condition to do some long distance outdoor swimming when the warm weather comes.

Glass, who has been doing long distance swimming for the past few years, entered the Wrigley marathon swim at Toronto last fall but was forced out with hundreds of others who could not stand the icy waters of the lake.

He plans, however, to enter other swimming contests in the United States in the future.

"I will never enter another swim in the northern lakes," says Glass. "A person who trains in the warmer waters cannot stand to compete for any length of time in northern lake waters. It is not a case of long distance swimming in Lake Ontario, it is merely being hardened to swimming in colder water."

Glass, who has been training for long distance swimming for a period of years following working hours here, made his debut in competition swimming at the Wrigley marathon which took place this last fall.

BEWARE THE COUGH FROM COLDS THAT HANG ON

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

DISCUSSES PAINTING WORK

Dec. 11, 1928.

Editor of The New Castle News.
Dear Sir:—

A recent issue of The News contained a well written editorial urging the people of New Castle to do their buying at home, pointing out the justice and far-reaching benefits to the community at large by such a course. In the December 7 issue of The News appeared an article announcing the arrival in our city of a number of workmen from Chicago to decorate the new auditorium of the George Washington junior high school.

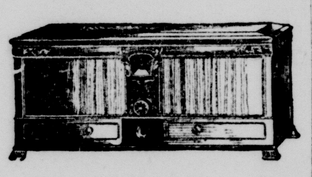

We have in our own city men fully capable of doing this work, but the opportunity to demonstrate their ability rarely occurs, and when it does occur they are denied that chance. The same old story as told 2,000 years ago. "For Jesus himself testified, that a prophet hath no honor in his own country," John 4:24.

And further, these New Castle workmen are part of ourselves, they are active workers in our civic, social and religious affairs, contributing of their means to all charitable and beneficient movements in our city. They are permanent residents, and I believe without a single exception own property, contributing largely to the expenditures of our city, and the heavy school taxes, thereby paying their share of the heavy cost of this work, done by non-residents and no better than they could do themselves and at a season of the year when work in their line is scarce.

Now I'm not complaining, for having served some years in public office, I know general contractors have their prearrangements with favorite specialists. But for general information I wish to point out some apparent oversights and decided injustice. Therefore I would suggest that all future contracts for public work contain a clause "that New Castle workmen shall be given the preference when capable of doing said work." And I would suggest that the workmen be given the opportunity of proving their ability or fitness.

Yours respectfully,
EDWARD SHIELDS,
714 Blaine St., City.

GOLF ASSOCIATION TO ADOPT NEW BALL

May Eliminate Marathon Course

Brassie And Spoon To Be Returned To Tourna ment Play

NEW BALL WILL NOT BE READY UNTIL 1931

By DAVIS J. WALSH
Sports Editor International News Service

NEW YORK, Dec. 13.—Having been told that nobody wanted the larger and lighter golf ball, the United States Golf association naturally is proceeding to see that everybody gets it and is making such progress that the project is very likely to become official at the annual meeting on January 5. This is known in some circles as the cod liver oil method. Nobody wants cod liver oil; nobody wants the lighter ball. That's why they get them. Both are very good for you, according to the golf association.

The writer naturally is taking in too much territory in attempting to speak for everybody on this question. Men like Jones are indifferent to innovations. They know that they will be able to play golf if you give them a toy balloon to hit and an ostrich plume with which to hit it. It is the sap golfer to whom the proposed legislation is violently objectionable. It will deprive him of the great American right of lying about his drive.

What really will happen is that we will have two types of ball: The official or tournament ball and the old jackrabbit. This means that when you come into the locker breathless with the news that you cracked 103, with a fighting 8 on the last hole, the cynics will sneer openly and inquire: "What ball did you use?"

Will Bring Changes.

Anyhow, the golf association says that it is doing everything for the best and is understood to quote the following as benefits that will accrue:

1. It will save golf clubs money on upkeep and construction, since the so-called "marathon course" will pass with the coming of the less lively ball.

2. The shorter course will be a great boon to the older generation whose arteries harden loudly as they labor over the present route, greatly disturbing those who are in the act of sighting 8-inch putts.

3. It will bring the brassie and spoon back to tournament play; also the long iron to the green, one of the most difficult shots to control.

Under the new order, a championship course will vary in length from 6,000 to 6,200 yards, it is said. Only a few reputable "houses" will be designated to make the official ball and the firm of Blatz, Blatz, Blatz & Blatz simply need not apply. It will be too busy turning out the "bootleg" or high pressure ball for the saps, anyhow.

In any case, the proposed new ball will not be ready for play until 1931, it is understood, because it will take that long for the manufacturers to install new molds and complete their tests.

Action On January 3.

These details may look the part of assumption or presumption. They really are neither. I am informed that all that is necessary to carry the legislation through is for the executive committee to approve the recommendation of the ball and implement committee, which approval is almost inevitable. Having done this, the rule then will go on the books, provided it receives the support of the royal and ancient committee of St. Andrews. The latter can do no less. The lighter ball was and has been its infant from the first.

Firemen in the English town of Lingfield are disappointed. They got a new fire engine a year ago and the town hasn't had a fire since.—The Florence, Alabama, Herald.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

By ED. FRITZ

Eddie Kennedy, referee, is one of the best third men in the state, but he is a witty cuss and one who sometimes slips a cog to pull a good fight from a bout that would go bad were it not for his common sense. But Phil Sussman, judge, told us one recently about Eddie. It is new and follows, in substance.

Two boys, one white, the second colored, were boxing in a neighboring city. Kennedy was the referee. The colored boy was getting considerably the worst of the argument and went to the floor: "One—two—three—get up" counted Eddie. "Four—you're quitting—Five—c'mon, get up" he continued.

The colored lad opened his eyes as Eddie counted "six—one—two—three." The colored boy knew he had started all over again and Kennedy finally counted up to "nine" then went back to "one" whereupon the lad asked: "Say, referee, can't you count up to ten?"

That ended that fight right there.

Big Tom McMahon, formerly termed the Bearcat was fighting Tom Cowler, that Cumberland Mountain (you remember him as the heavyweight Jim Corbett picked to win the heavyweight championship in the days of Willard.) "They boxed at Steubenville and Tom hit McMahon so hard in the first perspiration bounded from his head.

Down went Big Tom, kerplunk! Just like that. No kidding. He was down, groggy, weak, bereft of his senses. But he got up thru instinct and when the round ended (it was the first) wearily made his way to his corner. He carried on for the entire ten rounds and after the fight walked through the main street of Steubenville and said to a companion:

"Funny, itn't it. I've been in Buffalo lots of times but I just don't seem to remember ever having been on this street before." His companion gazed at Tom, shook him by the arm and said: "Buffalo? Say, Tom you're in Steubenville." Tom cast a look at the chap and replied: "There you go again; trying to kid me." Tom came to when he was getting on the railroad train.

Warren Farrow, the big colored "clubber" who trains with Emmett Rocco was a beaten fighter before he went in to battle Nick Polis the other night at the Jolly bowl. Several days before he stepped into the ring, he visited the bowl and asked a trainer: "How does this Nick polish hit?" Wishing to have some fun the trainer replied:

"Like Rocco!"

"No, NOT LIKE ROCCO?" screamed the big colored boy.

"Yes, LIKE ROCCO!" yelled the trainer.

Warren shook his head dolefully travelled away silently and last Monday night when Nick hit him alongside of the head with a right hand punch that felled him like a rock he must have remembered the trainer's words: "YES, LIKE ROCCO!"

We got a good "rise" out of Chauncey Davis, the boxing judge yesterday when we met him at city hall. "Say, what do you mean by giving the decision to Joe Carelli over Joe Lauder?" we asked the good natured Welshman.

"Why, what do you care?" he asked.

"Oh, nothing, but we heard a couple of fans talking it over and one of them said the reason you gave it to him was that "you wanted to give Carelli a Christmas present so you gave him the decision instead of the present."

Mr. Davis did not like that so well, in fact he took the joke seriously, so we kept shufflin' along.

Opinion Divided On Ten-Man Ball Teams

American League Flatly Refuses To Listen To Radical Baseball Change

National League Moguls Are More Attentive To President Heydler's Plan

By LES CONKLIN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Dec. 13.—Undaunted by the American League's informal rejection of John A. Heydler's ten-man ball team proposal, the National League club owners are still strongly in favor of the innovation suggested by their president and will discuss the scheme with the moguls of the junior circuit in Chicago today. Final decision in the matter probably will be made by Commissioner Kenesaw M. Landis.

Many fans and ball players here joined the National League owners in extolling the virtues of the radical change. They pointed out that it would do away with the strategy of walking dangerous batters to get at a weak-hitting pitcher, a practice considered objectionable by the fans. And they declared that under the scheme pitching battles would not be broken up prematurely by the removal of one hurler for a pinch hitter, with the yanked boxman's successor quickly being nicked for the winning run.

Furthermore, such famous old-timers as "Moose" McCormick, the greatest pinch-hitter of his day, declared that a pinch-hitter used three or four times a game could compile a much better batting average than under present conditions.

Practically all National League players who have passed their peak are heartily in favor of the idea. For it will mean, if adopted, that veterans now deemed not sprightly enough for regular service will be able to stay in the big leagues for nobody knows how many years.

Under present conditions a vet with wobbly pins can't hang on for long because a club can't afford to carry a player who pinch hits only once a game. But under the proposed change any old-timer who can deliver base hits will be eligible for a regular job even though his arm and legs are gone beyond repair.

Veterans O K Plan

And so dozens of retired veterans were pricking up their ears today and dreaming dreams of making a comeback in the big show. Graybeards who fought side by side with Pop Anson in the Chicago-New York wars are dropping their ploughshares and grabbing a bat. Trusty bludgeons that drove out base hits in the nineties are being brought from the cobwebs in the attic and polished up.

The new position on the baseball "ten" would be the softest racket in the profession. No standing in the blazing sun or freezing cold for the permanent pinch-hitter. We could no longer laugh at the girl who thought that Babe Ruth sat in a field box when not at bat, and was not required to play in the field with the hoi polloi.

A portly gentleman is teeing up at the start of the seniors' national golf championship in New York. He sports a majestic bay window and waddles around with difficulty. Suddenly the aged man drops his driver, glances at his watch and exclaims:

Another graybeard is watching the gee-gees prance in the paddock at the Hawthorne track in Chicago. He calls a cab and dashes to the Cubs' Park just in time to bat for the pitcher. Rogers Hornsby, still going strong.

The manager of a Pittsburgh vaudeville house announces:

"Ladies and gents, the famous act of the Waner brothers will be twenty minutes late. The Bucs are putting on a rally and both big poison and little poison are needed."

In New York Frank O'Doul, the eminent stock broker, leaves his seat on the 'change and speeds to Philly in an airplane. He has just enough time to reach Baker bowl and bat for some battered Quaker hurler.

Yet, it's a good trick, even if Pres. Heydler can't do it. Who said that youth must be served?

Delaney-Sharkey Signed For Bout

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Dec. 13.—Jack Delaney, regarded as a leading contender for the heavyweight championship until he was knocked out by Jack Sharkey last spring, will return to the light-heavyweight wars here on January 4. The former king of the light-heavies has signed articles for a ten-round bout with Jimmy Slattery, of Bufaflo, at Madison Square Gadren on that date.

All Franchises In City League Due This Evening

City Basketball League Franchises Must All Be At Y By Tonight

FOUR TEAMS IN LEAGUE TO DATE

All franchises of teams wishing to join the city basketball league must be brought to the Y. M. C. A. not later than tonight, states Henry McNicholas, assistant physical director, in charge of the league. In addition to this, all those eligible players on the various teams should also be sent to the Y. M. C. A. not later than this evening.

Sponsors of the league are asking that this material be given to them in order that the schedules may be arranged immediately and all plans for this year's league completed.

The present teams in the league are the Lincolns, Rick Overlands, Knickerbockers and The Castletons. Due to the suspension of New Castle high from the W. P. I. A. L. it was deemed necessary by them that the franchise of the team from the high school be withdrawn from the league, states McNicholas.

There are several other teams in the citywhich have unofficially announced their intentions to join the league, but thus far there has been no official statement. It is asked that these teams report again tonight and then all final arrangements can be completed for the league to start.

The official schedule for the league will be announced within the next few days.

New Wilmington High Schedule

To Open Season On December 21 With Union High Tossers

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Dec. 13.—Starting against Union high school in a home game here December 21, the New Wilmington high school basketball team will play through a schedule of 17 games. Grove City, Punxsutawney, and Bessemer feature the calibre of the teams which will meet the college town passers.

At present Coach C. H. Olsen is handicapped through the ineligibility of two of his stars: Hutchison, a center, and Eagleson, a forward. These men will not play until after the new year.

Other basketeers who are showing up well on the local high school squad are Patterson, Neal, McConnell, McGill and Newton. The schedule for the season follows:

Dec. 21—Union at home.
Dec. 29—Punxsutawney, at home—pending.
Jan. 4—East Brook, away.
Jan. 12—Bessemer, at home—pending.
Jan. 18—Plaingrove, away.
Jan. 25—Enon Valley, away.
Feb. 1—Mt. Jackson, at home.
Feb. 8—Shenango, away.
Feb. 9—Grove City, at home.
Feb. 12—Union, away.
Feb. 15—East Brook, at home.
Feb. 22—Grove City, away.
Feb. 26—Bessemer, away—pending.
March 2—Plaingrove, at home.
March 5—Enon Valley, at home.
March 8—Mt. Jackson, away.
March 15—Shenango, at home.

Basketball Outlook At Senior High Promising

Squad Of Twenty-eight Men At Work Daily; Six Veterans On Hand This Year

Faculty Manager Gardner Arranging Schedule; Bridenbaugh Well Pleased

By "BUGS" WALTHER

With twenty-eight candidates out for practice, the basketball outlook at Senior High School for the 1928-29 season is very promising. There are six veterans from last year on the squad.

Coach Philip H. Bridenbaugh is not saying much. When "Bridie" is quiet he is usually pleased. The material this year is very good and with six veterans as the nucelus, Senior High should have a strong combination this season.

The six men who were on the squad last year are:—Ostrosky, Cuba, Alexander, Johnson, Fenati and Sillman. Several of the young candidates are showing up good and it maybe that the veterans will have to show lots of stuff to keep their jobs. Shaffer and McAuley are two of the newcomers who appear to have gained quite some knowledge of basketball and they are in line for berths if they continue to play the brand of basketball they have shown since Monday.

ARRANGING SCHEDULE

Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner is busy arranging an independent schedule for the team, and according to the popular hard-working faculty manager yesterday will have a fine schedule arranged before the first of the year. The locals will likely open the season away from home, being scheduled to play Altoona High at Altoona on December 21. Just when the home season will be inaugurated is not known definitely. Grove City is scheduled for New Years night her January 1, but the red and black may open at home prior to that date.

Defeats Akron Heavyweight By Taking Every Round At Akron

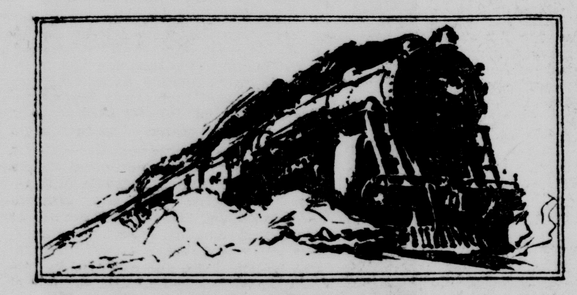

Emmett Rocco, heavyweight of Ellwood City, chalked up another 10-round victory last night when he Frankie Wine in a 10-round bout at outpunched, outboxed and outfought Akron.

Rocco gave Wine a good pasting, according to reports reaching here today, and several times staggered the former light-heavyweight champion of South Africa, who recently beat K. O. Christner.

In several of the rounds it looked as though the heavy puncher from Ellwood City would send Wine to the floor, but he managed to save himself by defensive tactics.

Expect Davies To Make Final Decision Today

Charleroi Flyweight Has Refused To Box Midget Wolgast

By ED. FRITZ

Willie Davies, Welsh flash of Charleroi, has refused to box Midget Wolgast, state flyweight champion, Christmas afternoon at the Jolly bowl.

His manager, James Buchanan, so informed Promoter Bill Jolly in the presence of the writer at the Leslie Hotel. However, hope of landing the match has not yet been entirely dissipated.

Several days ago Jolly requested the writer to name a good bout and we promptly picked Davies to box Wolgast. At that time we had no inkling that Davies would turn a deaf ear to the plan.

Jolly telephoned to Manager Buchanan and the latter said nay. Jolly had the writer 'phone Buchanan and we received the same reply but Buchanan came here Wednesday.

He said that Davies would not box Wolgast because he feared that the probable loss of a decision at this time would injure his chances of boxing Frankie Genaro, N. B. A. flyweight champion.

Wolgast has an inimitable jumping-jack style that Buchanan claims has puzzled judges and writers. "It will not puzzle us and Davies will get a fair break," we told him.

Davies manager said he knew that the writer while connected with the bowl last summer had been favorable toward Davies in giving him bouts but summed up the situation, thusly: "If Davies does not want to box Wolgast, he wont box him. You can lead a horse to water but you cannot make him drink." In other words Davies has the final say on matches.

Buchanan invited Promoter Jolly to make a personal visit to Davies at Charleroi. Jolly may do this and a final decision from Davies is awaited.

Sharon Youth Will Lead State Gridmen

Jackson A. Martin Is Elected Captain Of Penn State's 1929 Team

(International News Service)

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Dec. 13.—The election of Jackson A. Martin of Sharon as captain of the Penn State football team for 1929 was made Thursday at a meeting of the lettermen.

Martin has played tackle for the past two years on Hugo Bezdek's eleven. The new Penn State leader came from Sharon high school, which also produced Harry Wilson, who made a brilliant record at the Nittany mountain institution and later at West Point.

Eddie Weygant Loses On Foul And Bud Avery Beats Minteer

Joey Goodman, Norfolk, Va., gave Eddie Ruttman, Akron, a beating in a six round semi-final to the Johnny Kusic-Freddy Fitzgerald 10 round bout which Fitzgerald won last night at Youngstown.

Eddie Weygant, local featherweight, was disqualified for a low blow in the sixth round with Billy Wallace last night. The commission physician said Wallace had been fouled. Weygant had an edge on Wallace when the referee stopped the bout.

Roy Minteer was outweighed nine pounds but went on with Bud Avery and may wear a cauliflower ear as the result of the fight. The weight proved too much for Roy but nevertheless he went the four rounds.

The Kusic-Fitzgerald bout was not sensational, due to the cautiousness of both fighters. According to the Vindicator Fitzgerald won. Kusic and Fitzgerald have fought here. Kusic beat Mickie Dugan and Fitzgerald won from Paris Cangie.

Bessemer Primes For Approaching Basketball Year

Boys' And Girls Team Open First League Game With Mt. Jackson, December 21

Coach J. A. Fredericks is getting his Bessemer high school basketball team primed for the initial fray of this year's county league which will take place on the home floor with Mount Jackson high school December 21.

The Bessemer squad has but one man left from the varsity team of last year but despite a pessimistic outlook, they are hoping to again take the class B championship.

The game with the North Beaver high school promises to be a keen one for the initial contest of the season. The Jackson squad, being coached by Westminster court stars, lost but one man from last year's squad, so it seems they will undoubtedly give the Bessemerites a real battle.

Nineteen boys are fighting for positions on the varsity five for this season. They follow: Henri Mack, Lester Ruehle, Paul Nord, John Ulan, Lawrence Kiminkinen, Frank Stanish, George Carlson, Jacob Levinson, Paul Swanson, Edward Nelson, Tony Capezzuto, Thomas Shreffler, Ralph Engle, Charles Grist, Thayer Martin, Kuzmo Bryan, Taito Purmacki, Glenn Stanley and Matt Afrec.

The girls' squad for this year is being coached by Miss Mary Smith, former member of the Westminster college varsity girls' basketball team. Similar to the Bessemer boys' team, but one member, Sadie Panella, remains from last year's team.

Girls who are contesting for positions on the first team are Sadie Panella, Geraldine Davis, Elizabeth Macklin, Eleanor Throop, Frances Griffin, Dennie Rodan, Mary Brncic, Margaret Davidson, Marcella Macklin, Mildred Bekoski, Vera Sepic, Florence Anderson, Ellen Yarvin, Thelma DeArment, Bernice Anderson, Dorothy Engle, Rose Standish and Sophie Rebish.

Indies Defeat Hubbard 38-32

The Wampum Indies made it four straight on Tuesday night at the Wampum Opera House floor by defeating the fast Hubbard, Ohio, Hub Club by a score of 38 to 32.

The Hubbard team was vastly improved since the recent defeat at the hands of the Wampum boys at the Ohio city, and gave the Indies a real tussle. Boone and Blythe were the big stars for the Wampum team, with Badaskie and Beaumire the best for Hubbard.

The summary:

Indies 38.		Hub Club 32.
Boone	F	Badaskie
Hennon	F	Arnold
Blythe	C	Beaumire
Patterson	G	Halls
Ferrucci	G	Terry

Subs.—Gillner, White.

Goals—Boone 5, Hennon 2, Blythe 8, White, Ferrucci, Badaskie 6, Arnold, Gillner 2, Beaumire 6, Halls.

Fouls—Indies, 4 out of 7; Hub Club, 0 out of 3.

Referee—Hamile, (Hub Club).

Isn't He More Valuable — By Feg Murray

Metropolitan Newspaper Service

The recent announcement, withheld, wisely enough, until the big football games were out of the way, that Jim Bottomley had been voted the National League's "most valuable player" award has aroused a storm of controversey over alleged injustice done to Freddie Lindstrom, third basemen of the Giants. The New York player was placed second in the voting, six points behind the winner, and the fact that his season's batting average was thirty-three points higher than Bottomley's, did not seem to count with some of the committee of writers who did the balloting.

"Sunny Jim" polled 76 votes, Lindstrom 70, Bottomley being the first choice of half of the committee of eight, while Lindstrom was at the top of three of the other writers' lists. Bottomley's showing during the world series had no bearing on the award, which is just as well, but on the other hand, Lindy's team didn't even get into the world series. But what New York fans are "het up" about is that while the Cardinal first-sacker was of great value to his team, he slumped off so in his hitting during the latter part of the season, especially in September, that it seems Lindstrom's wonderful all-season work more than deserved the honor and the $1,000 prize that goes with it. Also there is talk of an anti-New York complex among some of the committee.

Fred Lindstrom, "The Terrible Swede," fairly sparkled last September as he made sensational plays by the score and batted in a most timely fashion. He was one of the outstanding infielders of 1928, flaming youth at its best at the hot corner, and his record was his platform in a contest with a man who was a slow plodder by comparison. Remember Lindy's odd double play last June, when he ran down two base-runners, tagged them both, then raced right on to the clubhouse without changing his course? It was typical of the heads-up ball played all season by this 23-year-old athlete.

Suggestion for an All-Nature football team:

Ends, Bush, Stanford, and Moss, Virginia Military Institute; tackles, Waters, Florida, and Rock, St. Bonaventure; guards, Brooks, Villanova, and Lake, Rochester; center, Woods, New York Firemen; quarter, Maple, Oregon Aggies; halves, Hill, New York University, and Fields, University of California, Southern Branch; fullback, Crabtree, Cornell College, Iowa.

Franklin High Floor Contests

The 9B-4 team at Ben Franklin Junior high won the 9th grade interclass championship, in a hard fought game with the 9A-4 team, the final score was 13 to 7. The 7B-2 team defeated the 7B-4 team 12 to 10.

The winning of the title by the 9B-4 team was quite an upset. At the end of the first half the 9A-4 team held the lead at 6 to 4, but the playing of Gromes was too much for the 9A-4 team in the final half.

The summaries:—

Wallace	F	Morgan
Ross	F	Macki
Wiitanen	C	Cooper
Gromes	G	Nemi
Abraham	G	Rieder

Subs—Dewyer. Field Goals—9B-4—Gromes 3, Wiitanen, Abraham; 9A-4—Macki. Foul Goals—9B-4—3 out of 9; 9A-4—5 out of 14. Referee—Jewell.

7B-2 12		7B-4 10
Augustin	F	Williams
Gurgacz	F	Evangles
Kominic	C	Hitchen
Varzaly	G	Chapaman
Joseph	G	Annecillo

Field Goals—7B-2—Augustin, Kominic; 7B-4—Williams, Hitchen 2. Foul Goals—7B-2—6 out of 10; 7B-4—4 out of 8. Referee—Macki.

The Tip Tops will journey to Harlansburg on Saturday night to meet the fast Harlansburg Indies. The game will start at 8 o'clock. The Indies recently defeated the Harlansburg High School team, and the Tip Tops are looking for a tough battle. The following players are asked to make the trip to Harlansburg: Frank Usselton, Charles Usselton, Spencer, Brooks, Jenkins, Conway, Love and Dewberry.

Rick Motors To Have Fast Team

The Rick Motors basketball team will be in the running for the city league championship this year, according to Alec Samuels, who is filling the role as advisory manager. Ray Nolte will have charge of the team.

The Rick roster will include such well known local basketball stars as Andy Hartman, Arnold Frazier, Frank Coen, Hank Nocera, Steve Volesko, William Genkinger and Ray Nolte. Several other players will also be added to the lineup from time to time. The Ricks will play a strong independent schedule.

A New Reo Flying Cloud The Mate

Racing for port, slim nose in the smother while the rival merchantmen hove to and rode out the storm—flashing down the Roaring Forties to make one glamorous record after another on the stubborn trip around the Horn . . . what made the "Flying Cloud" the darling of the nation in the good old clipper days? Craftsmanship! . . . Every inch of her tuned to its purpose. Every quality so balanced as to make a perfect whole. The last inch of canvas—that could be safely carried. The final foot of cargo space—that didn't cut down speed. No wonder—like to like—she gathered to herself the cleverest Master and the staunchest Mate who owed allegiance to the Stars and Stripes. Today, our field of action shifts to landward. Our cars crowd roads around the world as once our clippers filled the glittering lanes at sea. But balanced craftsmanship still turns the trick—so much of this, so much of that, no more—and so the Reo Flying Cloud sails on. Speed—much more than you'll ever need. Quick pick-up and such 4-wheel brakes as bring her up all-standing. A wheel that answers to a finger's touch. Dependability that hugs the road no matter how you let her out. A power that rides the hills as once the elder "Flying Cloud" rode equinoctial gales. More space—an extra-wide rear seat, a front seat with those unexpected inches that make an added passenger a pleasure, not a temper test. Beauty, of course—a sleekness and a grace inseparable from perfect balance of design. From this day forward—here's the cheering news—there's not a single Flying Cloud—but two. The Master is the bigger car. The Mate is next in line. Every quality that distinguishes the first goes also for the second—except size . . and price . .

N. Y. STOCKS

NEW YORK, Dec. 13—A flurry in the stock market this morning carried prices of many of the market leaders down to the lowest price level of the month, wiping out most of the effects of the rally which followed last Saturday's break. The market was excited and nervous over Packard's sudden 14-point break near the close of Wednesday's market, and unprepared for the tidal wave of selling.

Confusion spread to the high-priced market favorities when radio, after opening at 312, unchanged, dropped to 293, the lowest on the move, and rebounded in a few minutes to 311. Packard was rushed down 6 points to 145, recovering to 150 and Chrysler, after a dip to 116, sold above 120. U. S. Steel broke to below 152, and General Motors dipped to 186½, a little lower than in last week's break.

The stock market was decidedly a confused and mixed-up affair, with neither the long nor the short side a safe bet for more than a few minutes at a time.

Wall Street brokerags houses sent out cards today, naming a 40 per cent. Minimum margin and refusing to buy any stock under $20 a share except for cash outright—no margin.

Reviving talk of a big consolidation between the Chrysler and Packard Motor companies has stirred up considerable interest in the stocks of these companies. Gardner has been slowly rising on the successful marketing of its new eight-cyclinder car.

The "Merger" railroad stocks also came to life in this period, with Chicago Great Western common jumping 3 points; preferred 5 points and New York, Ontario and Western up 3.

Money was in good supply at 8 per cent.

Stock Market Is Uncertain Today

Stocks Soar For Time, But Drop Down Again As In Previous Sessions

By W. S. COUSINS
International News Service Financial Editor

NEW YORK, Dec. 13.—After floundering around unsteadily for the great part of the forenoon, the high-prices motor car, Copper and industrial stocks today advanced to a slightly higher range of prices, under the same leadership as in the previous session of the stock market.

Radio's quick dip to 293, a loss of 19 points, was followed by a hurried recovery to 311, only a point below Wednesday's close, around which level the stock was fairly active. Packard Motor suffered a fainting spell at the start, largely the aftermath of yesterday's violent closing shakedown, but recovered all of its lost ground.

Standard Oil of New York and New Jersey were turned over in large blocks at slightly rising prices. New York advancing through 39.

Chicago and Great Western common and preferred carried through to the highest prices of the year; New York, Ontario and Western rose a few points and Missouri Pacific reached a high price level on the better outlook for railroad consolidations as outlined by prominent railroad heads in their recent statements.

Vessel Strikes Reef Near Kodiak, Alaska, And Sends Out Distress Message

(International News Service)

CORDOVA, Alaska, Dec. 13—Twelve passengers had been landed today from the Steamer Starr, which sent out SOS calls late yesterday through the Naval Radio station at Kodiak, according to advices here. All hands were reported safe.

The disabled ship reported that her propeller had been damaged when she struck a reef south of Dark Island, near Kodiak.

Reports said the craft had been badly iced up and damaged in gales. Three large fishing vessels are proceeding to the Starr at the place she is riding at anchor.

Dunn's Fighters Busy With Bouts

Jimmie Dunn, fistic manager, stated today that he had booked several of the boys who have fought here, for engagements Saturday and Monday. He was in Youngstown last night where Joey Goodman beat Eddie Ruttman.

Saturday night in Cincinnati, Dick O'Leary meets Bobby Brown; Joey Goodman battles Bobby Atterson and Tom O'Leary will box in a preliminary. Monday night Louisville, Ky., fans will see Henry Firpo box Young Malley.

While Firpo is in Louisville, Frankie Rio and Mickie Dugan will be fighting opponents, not yet known, at Jake Pitler's club in Oil City where Ike McFowler will battle George Gemas of Philadelphia.

Johnny Datto, Dunn stated had been matched for bouts in Toledo, Columbus, Detroit and Cincinnati. His first bout will be at Cincinnati. Datto had been suspended in Ohio but it was proved he had a bad hand and he was exonerated and reinstated a few days ago.

State Legislators To Convene On January 1

By WILLIAM B. BROWN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Dec. 13.—January 1 will be "Happy New Year" and a day of rest for the majority of Pennsylvanians but for members of the senate and house and their numerous attaches it will be the start of the biennial legislative grind.

The state constitution in this case takes priority over what have been established as legal holidays by the legislature. The constitution provides that the "general assembly shall meet at 12 o'clock, noon, on the first Tuesday of January every second year." In obedience to that mandate the legislature will convene on New Year's day for the first time in 22 years.

Short Sessions.

One thing the constitution does not provide and that is how much time shall be spent by the legislature after it has been duly convened. Short programs for both houses already have been outlined and it is expected that a minimum of time will be devoted to actual work.

In accordance with the custom of opening day each house will verify the official votes by which its members were elected. At a joint session the official vote by which the auditor general and state treasurer were elected also will be verified.

With the exception of a speaker of the house it is not expected that organization of the legislature will furnish anything unusual or unexpected. Selection of the speaker will doubtless be agreed upon at the Republican caucus of both houses which will be held the night before.

May Seek Speaker Job.

Senate organization is expected to proceed without a ripple. Senator Horace W. Schantz, Lehigh, seems certain of re-election as president pro-tem. There is only one other major position that has been filled in the recess period—that of A. Boyd Hamilton, who resigned as secretary to the governor to become secretary of the senate. It is expected that he will be elected to a full term in that office and that the other appointees in major places will be re-elected.

More than a dozen members of the house have indicated publicly a willingness to fondle the speaker's gavel, but a certain number of those trial balloons will be tied fast to problems that have less to do with personal ambitions. It is doubtful if more than a couple of names will be considered seriously by the caucus and there is little doubt but that the one agreed upon then will finally be selected.

Filling of the minor places—those $7 a day jobs which cause the members endless trouble—will be done as in the 1927 sesion at conferences of a slate committee.

Air service between Copenhagen and Hamburg has been resumed.

Christmas Tree To Feature Big Party

One of the features of the Christmas party to be held the evening of December 18 in the Legion Home for Spanish American War Veterans, their wives and families, will be the annual Christmas Tree. This tree as in former years will be donated by George Patterson from his farm near East Brook.

Another outstanding feature will be the exchange of gifts. Every person attending will bring some small gift to be used in the exchange of gifts.

A company plans to spend nearly $1,500,000 in developing a rubber plantation in Brazil and will commence planting rubber at once.

Conclude County Dairy Meetings This Afternoon

Series Of Seven County Dairy And Legume Meetings Completed

SPECIAISTS SPEAK TO LOCAL FARMERS

At 2 o'clock this afternoon the final of the series of dairy and legume meetings which have been sponsored throughout the week on a number of county farms by the county agent, Harold McCulloch, began at the farm of W. O. Martin in Washington township. This morning at 10 o'clock the farmers of Plaingrove township met at the farm of Carl Heckathorn.

The meeting at the Martin farm this afternoon marked the close of a series of seven meetings which have extended over a period of three days, December 11, 12 and 13.

At each of these meetings R. H. Olmstead and Nicholas Schmit, both dairy and agricultural specialists from Penn State college were present. Mr. Olmstead addressed each gathering "Dairy Feeding" while Mr. Schmit spoke to the country dairymen on the "Growing of Legume Roughages."

The meetings, state County Agent Harold McCulloch of the Lawrence County Agricultural Extension association have been perhaps the most successful series of farm educational sessions that we have had in the county.

Following the addresses of the men on vital farm topics the dairymen were free to ask any question concerning the work. Many availed themselves of the opportunity and received many helpful hints as well as solutions to problems.

Meetings took place on 70 farms in the county. Chronologically they occurred at the farms of N. E. Sampson of Fayette, A. E. McCreary and Sons at East Brook, J. F. Young in Wayne township; John Benson and Son in North Beaver township; E. C. McClelland, Mount Jackson; Carl Heckathorn, Plaingrove township and W. O. Martin in Washington township.

All of the meetings were well attended and it is estimated that the majority of the county dairymen were present at at least one of the sessions in his community.

Grangers Return From Convention Of State Grange

Some 25 Lawrence County People Attend State Sessions At Williamsport

Some 25 members of the grangers of Lawrence county will return home this evening following their attendance at the convention of the Pennsylvania State Grange which has been taking place at Williamsport since December 11. The convention sessions close this evening.

W. H. McCullough, Big Beaver granger, was director of the music at the convention.

Levy Guilty Says Jury At Court

In the case of the commonwealth against Walter Levy, charged with malicious mischief, the jury returned a verdict of guilty at court yesterday afternoon. The case was one in which it was claimed that Levy had started to break up some furniture which Deputy Sheriff Kenneth Musser had seized on a writ of replevin for a Sharon firm.

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

Looks as though the court house squirrels will have plenty to eat for Christmas day. Some financier up there started a "squirrel fund" out of which will be bought nuts for the Christmas dinner.

Something happened to one of the squirrels and Emma Carson of the prothonotary's office is being questioned rather closely as to her knowledge of the boarder. Emma claims that she never knew the squirrel let alone steal him.

Don't bother checking this colyum for errors today. As it is being written the engineer is trying to decide whether or not he has the epizootic, or the heebe jeebes or something. To feel like this one certainly should have something.

The lexicographer is back on the job again, this time with a clear case of error. It seems that the word supersede was used a day or so ago, and the last part of the word was spelled "cede" instead of "sede".

After catching us cold with an error like that Mr. Drake calls it a day.

One of them was heading north and the other south on South Mill street. The south bound man suddenly decided to make a left hand turn on Taylor street and the north bound man piled into him.

And of course the usual crowd gathered, and the usual arguments took place as to whose fault it was. And because there was nobody hurt I kept on going, but I've been wondering ever since who was at fault.

Some of you old timers may remember when the street car tracks were first laid or when the Washington street was paved, but how many of you remember the night the gas was first turned on in New Castle?

Attorney Thomas W. Dickey has it marked clearly in his recollection. He was just a youngster and his father was on a murder jury that night. The folks at home were unaccustomed to gas, as was everybody else, and in order to get it turned on, it was necessary to have the tipstaff of the jury take him home and allow him to turn it on and light it.

Plan Tests For New Equipment On Submarines

Submarine S-4 With Four Men Aboard Will Be Sunk To Test New Apparatus

(International News Service)

NEW LONDON, Conn., Dec. 13.—Some time in the next seven days the tragic submarine S-4 is to be towed down the harbor here, and, controlled by men working from a tender, dropped into the depths of Long Island Sound.

Later in the month the S-4 will be towed into Floridian waters and there again will undergo tests to determine how effective the latest undersea safety devices are.

The S-4 has been equipped with a tower on the after deck that is intended to be a means of quick exit in time of disaster. In experiments the S-4 will be sunk with a crew on board, and then a diving bell will be lowered so as to fit about the tower. The experimenters believe that the crew will be able to open the hatch on the tower, step into the diving bell, and then rise to the surface when the bell is hoisted to the surface.

The S-4 has been equipped also with diving compartments that are intended to be operated from both inside and outside the vessel when it is sunk.

Hooks Found Guilty On Schuller Charge

Blair Hooks, charged with attempting to assault Miss Minnie Schuller in an automobile on the East Brook road, was found guilty by a jury at court yesterday afternoon.

Hooks, according to Miss Schuller had picked her up as she was walking home from work at a store on Euclid avenue.

She jumped out of the car on the East Brook road, sustained a cut on her arm and hands. Hooks denied that he had attempted an assault, claiming that he had merely put his arm on the back of the seat.

Barn Is Burned By Auto Backfire

SHARON, Pa., Dec. 13.—Backfiring of an automobile caused the destruction of the barn of A. D. Chelton of Deer Creek, with all the season's crops.

Ralph Dean, who has been employed at the Chelton farm, was attempting to start the machine which had been placed in the barn. The machine ignited a pile of straw, and in an instant the entire barn was in flames. Fortunately none of the stock was in the barn at the time. Both Mr. Dean's and Mr. Chelton's auto's were destroyed along with the other contents of the barn.

Women Of City Shop In Morning
